POLLS AHOY! CM ATTEMPTS PLEASE-ALL BUDGET

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WITH an eye on Assembly polls, likely in May, and with just about two-and-a-half months left for his government's current term to complete, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai presented the state budget on Friday as one last shot to woo large sections of the state's electorate — farmers, women and youth.

The chief minister, who also holds the Finance portfolio, also added region-specific and religious thrusts for a wider outreach in the Rs 402 crore revenue surplus budget with an outlay of Rs 3,09,182 crore — for the first time going above the Rs 3 lakh crore mark.

The budget also looks at children's education. After the Vidyanidhi Scheme, this year, Bommai announced Vidya Shakti scheme wherein children passing out of high schools will be provided free education in Government Pre University and Government degree colleges to benefit eight lakh students across the state.

The total outlay of Rs 3.09 lakh crore includes revenue expenditure at Rs 2,25, 507 crore, capital expenditure at Rs 61,234 crore and loan repayment at 22,441 crore. The total liabilities is estimated at Rs 5,64,896 crore which is 24.20 per cent of the GSDP.

"I am happy to inform you that all the parameters specified in the Karnataka Fiscal Responsibility Act 2002 have been attended to," he said.

CM's allocation for B'luru is more of a public redressal

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TO resurrect a badly flood-hit and pothole-ridden image of Bengaluru, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai allocated close to Rs 10,000 crore for the IT city's development. This is an increase of Rs 1,289 crore from the previous budget. The allocation for the city's development is Rs 9,698 crore as against Rs 8,409 crore last year.

To ensure free flow of rainwater to avoid flooding and damage to roads in the city, the government allocated Rs 1,813 crore for development of drains and culverts, Rs 1,450 crore for white topping of arterial and sub-arterial roads and another Rs 300 crore for reconstruction and repair of roads.

For the first time, the state budget has allocated Rs 3,000 crore to mitigate the ill effects of climate change and flooding, with assistance from World Bank. Experts have, however, questioned how it will be implemented on ground as lack of coordination among agencies is a known fact.

To address the issue of traffic congestion, the chief minister announced the construction of a 5-km elevated road from Tin Factory to Medahalli and an integrated flyover from Yeshwanthpur railway station to Mathikere and BEL Road.

Shinde's is the real Shiv Sena: Poll panel

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE faction of the Shiv Sena led by Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde on Friday got a shot in the arm as the Election Commission of India (ECI) allowed his group to retain the name 'Shiv Sena' and its symbol 'Bow and Arrow'. The election body relied upon 'the test of majority' in the legislative assembly, as its test in the organisational wing had not yielded 'determinable or satisfactory findings'.

In the affidavit filed by the Shinde group, it had claimed to have the support of 40 MLAs in the Maharashtra legislative assembly and 13 MPs in the Lok Sabha. The Uddhav Thackeray group had stated it had 15 MLAs and four MPs in the Lok Sabha besides the entire strength in the legislative council (12) and the Rajya Sabha (3).

Lauding the decision, Shinde said it was the victory of democracy. "This is the victory of Balasaheb Thackeray's ideology. It is also the victory of MLAs, MPs and party workers who were with me," he said.

Thackeray said he would challenge the decision in the SC. "The Eknath Shinde faction has stolen a bow and arrow symbol. People will avenge this theft," he said. He appealed to his followers not to give up the fight. "Let the thieves rejoice for a few days," he said.

Eknath Shinde

Uddhav Thackeray

The ECI noted that the outcome of the majority test in the legislative wing clearly reflects 'qualitative superiority' in favour of the petitioner (Shinde). The party constitution, on which the Thackeray faction had placed strong reliance, was undemocratic, the ECI observed.

As per submissions made by both parties, the party constitution was amended in 2018 but wasn't put on record. Expressing displeasure over the way amendments were introduced to the constitution, the panel said there was a 'democratic deficit' in the amended charter.

No sealed cover, want full panel transparency: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday rejected the Centre's 'sealed-cover' suggesting names of experts to examine the regulatory changes required in the wake of allegations of stock manipulation against the Adani group, saying it wants full transparency to protect investors' interest. The SC said it will appoint a panel of experts on its own.

"In case we take your suggestions from sealed cover, it automatically means the other party won't know. The moment we accept your suggestion, there will not be any transparency. We want to maintain fullest transparency for protection of investors. We will form a committee. There will be a sense of confidence in the court," Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud remarked.

The bench said it would set up the committee headed by a retired SC judge. It remarked that it can't start with the presumption of a "regulatory failure" while it reserved orders with regards to composition of the expert committee.

The top court made the remarks while considering the pleas of advocates M L Sharma, Vishal Tiwari, Congress leader Jaya Thakur and activist Mukesh Kumar seeking a court-monitored probe into the issue.

Advocate Prashant Bhushan, appearing for a petitioner, said if the court is planning to have a committee, then he would also like to suggest names of some retired judges who have impeccable integrity.

"Don't give us names", the CJI said while wrapping up the proceedings for the day.

Condemning the Delay of Ejpira-Kendriya Sadan Elevated Flyover Construction Work and Ejipura-Agara Link Road as per RMP 2015

MASS PROTEST

Date : 18.02.2023, Saturday
Time : 11.00 A.M.
Place : SonyWorld Signal, Koramangala 100 Ft. Inner Ring Road

In the year 2012-13 the Congress government at the centre had proposed a plan to build an elevated Flyover to connect East Bangalore and South Bangalore funded through the JN-NURM scheme. The project, called the Ejipura - Kendriya Sadan elevated flyover was envisaged as a 2.5 Km long project.

Subsequently, in 2014 when the BJP assumed power in the Centre, the JN-NURM scheme was abolished. BTM Layout MLA Shri Ramalinga Reddy then took up the matter with the then Hon'ble CM, Shri Siddaramaiah to provide State Government grants to fund this project. In 2017, foundation stone was laid by Shri Siddaramaiah Hon'ble CM, and the contract was awarded to M/S Simplex infrastructure Ltd. The project completion deadline was fixed as December 2019. Until 2018 during the tenure of the Congress Government, work had progressed well on schedule and up to 32% of the work had been completed.

Later during BJP government, adequate funds were not released in timely manner from the allocated grants, M/S Simplex Infrastructure Ltd had written many letters to the BBMP highlighting this issue, but the funds were never released, which resulted delay in execution of work.

Hon'ble MLA Shri Ramalinga Reddy had written to the Chief Minister, UDD department and the BBMP on multiple occasions requesting immediate action. In spite of several meetings and joint inspections conducted on site with successive BBMP commissioners including Shri Manjunath Prasad, Shri Anil Kumar, Shri, Gaurav Gupta and the present commissioner Shri Tushar Girinath, no concrete results were obtained.

The Hon'ble MLA had taken this matter up very seriously and conducted a Rasta Roko, Protesting to highlight the inadequate Government attention to this issue. He has also raised this issue on the floor of the Assembly, to bring this matter to the attention of the Hon'ble Chief minister of Karnataka, Shri Basavaraj Bommai.

Since there was no positive response from any of the above initiatives, a local resident filed a PIL.before the Hon'ble Karnataka High Court. The High court of Karnataka ordered cancellation of the contract awarded to M/s Simplex and ordered the Government to call for fresh bids. All the bidders were technically disqualified in the first two attempts and during the third round, one bidder was declared technically qualified. The BBMP has yet to take any decision on the bid submitted, which will further delay the work on the flyover.

After induction of BJP Government from 2019 onwards, they have executed only 10% of the project work during past 04 years.

Ejipura-Agara Link Road as per RMP 2015 has been delayed in spite of signing MOU with the defence department, BBMP has not put its best efforts to take the land from Defence department & to start the Link Road work, which will decongest the traffic density in Koramangala.

Considering all the above factors and left without any other options, concerned citizens and road users have requested the Hon'ble MLA Sri Ramalinga Reddy to lead a Mass protest against the failure of BBMP and its delaying tactics in completing the work,

₹30-CR PARK TO BOOST STARTUP ECOSYSTEM

NEW BIZ

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

TO further strengthen the startup ecosystem in Karnataka, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday proposed to set up a startup park near Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) at a cost of Rs 30 crore.

Karnataka is home to 40 unicorns (startups with $1 billion valuation) worth around $163 billion, and in 2022-23 alone six startups have turned into unicorns. The government has implemented Karnataka Startup Policy 2022-27 and Karnataka Research Development and Innovation Policy 2022.

Also, to promote SC/ST, women and backward classes startups, ELEVATE Unnathi 2022, Amrutha Startups 2022, ELEVATE Kalyana Karnataka have been implemented, Bommai said. Already 93 startups have been identified and are being encouraged under the ELEVATE programme in the state.

IT/BT Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said the proposal of establishing a startup park would go a long way in stimulating the growth of around 25,000 startups that exist in Karnataka. "It would help position Karnataka as a champion state for startups. The state is well poised for further structuring of the startup ecosystem and investment in tech infrastructure," he said.

Property tech startup Nestaway said Bengaluru is already the startup hub of the country and the proposed park will help attract startups and investments in the capital city and its peripheral areas. Bommai also announced that in the current year, Karnataka Biotechnology Policy and AVGC (animation, visual effects, gaming and comics) policy will be revised.

Karnataka has sector specific policies focused on incentivising industries to promote and enhance growth including AVGC policy.

In April 2022, the Centre set up AVGC promotion task force and said that the sector in India has the potential to become the torch bearer of Brand India. India has the potential to capture about $40 billion of the global market share by 2025, and with the latest budget announcement, Karnataka wants to unleash the scope of this sector.

City's heritage finds place in budget

THE CM also did not lose the opportunity to address the issue of the demand of suburban rail network for Bengaluru. He said that work on the first phase will be completed by 2024-25 and the state's share of Rs 1,000 crore will be provided this fiscal.

To protect the heritage sites in and around Bengaluru, the CM announced that a feasibility study will be conducted for declaring the area within 5 km from the centre of Bengaluru city and having heritage and educational institutions as Heritage and Educational District. He also announced that a tourist circuit will be started this year covering historical landmarks of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, the founder of Bengaluru city.

The healthcare sector also caught the attention of the government as it announced setting up of a taluk laboratory in Bengaluru, 50-bed Critical Care Blocks in Doddaballapura and another 100-bed such blocks in Bengaluru.

₹2,500 cr to get 40km of Metro up & running

MOBILITY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state government has announced Rs 2,500 crore for ongoing projects of Namma Metro for the financial year 2023-2024. The Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd will operationalise 40.15 km of Metro route during the period.

Speaking to TNIE, BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said, "BMRCL projects are funded both by the Centre and the state. We have received Rs 5,936 crore in the budgets of both put together. Approximately, Rs 2,500 crore has been announced for us in the state budget presented today."

Asked about projects for which the amount will be utilised, the MD said the funds will be used for the 40 km of Metro network that will be commissioned this year. "We have nearly Rs 6,000 crore fund now and it is sufficient for our ongoing projects," he said.

Bengaluru Metro presently has 56 km of operational network. During the next financial year, the Baiyappanahalli to Whitefield line, Kengeri to Challaghatta, RV Road to Bommasandra and Nagasandra to BIEC are set to be commissioned.

The budget also made a mention of the airport line. "The works of Metro Rail Scheme connecting Central Silk Board to KIA of 58.19 km with 30 stations is under progress at a fast pace," the CM said. The Rs 16,328-crore Metro Phase-3 project, which will cover two corridors running to 44.65 km, will begin work after the Centre clears it, he added.

Big push for research, youth skilling

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

THE government has placed special focus on research within the state budget, as well as incentivising the youth to undertake self-employment through the promotion of startups.

The focus on startups and research in the last year has reflected in the budget, as youth have been heavily incentivised towards undertaking self-employment.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, while presenting the state budget on Friday, stated that as per the Youth Policy 2022, self-employment would be encouraged, especially among rural youth under the Swami Vivekananda Yuva Shakthi Yojane. In order to promote this, as much as Rs 5 lakh would be provided as financial assistance, of which Rs 1 lakh would be government support, he said.

In addition, furthering the Karnataka Research Development and Innovation Policy, the state budget has also mentioned that a Karnataka State Research Foundation is to be established. "Karnataka State Research Foundation will be established to encourage research and innovation, to ensure support from all the stakeholders and to achieve inter-departmental coordination to carry out R&D activities in the state," said Bommai.

PRIORITY FOR POLICING IN B'LURU

The government has given special importance to policing in Bengaluru, in the budget. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced that 2,000 additional posts will be created besides establishing 20 new police stations - nine law and order, five traffic and six women police stations.it was announced that two more Forensic Science Laboratories will be commenced in Tumakuru and Shivamogga districts at Rs 10 crore. Setting up eight FSLs in other places earlier has reduced the waiting period for reports from two years to just a month. ENS

Govt to spend big on housing for poor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state government will acquire 2,000 acres of land to curve out 30,000 sites for the public, of which, one-third, or 10,000 sites, will be marked for the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) under the new 'Namma Nele' scheme.

Announcing this in the budget, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said ownership certificates have already been provided to 1.14 lakh families staying in slum areas. The government will hand over land ownership certificates to all the 3.36 lakh families by the end of the year.

"Thirty-eight projects of the Karnataka Housing Board (KHB) had been pending for 5 years due to disputes. By changing the guidelines and overcoming hurdles, 48,000 sites in 3,382 acres have been distributed. In the current year, six housing projects have been completed by the KHB and 6,142 sites have been developed under these projects," said Bommai.

However, activists working on housing projects in slums have dismissed the claims made by Bommai.

"The government completed only about 32,000 houses in Bengaluru, but there are no takers. Hardly 4,000 people moved in. Rates fixed by the housing department and the houses are not attractive and people feel it is not worth it. Besides, under the Namma Nele scheme, the government says it will acquire 2,000 acres and give 10,000 sites for EWS, but where is the land? The slum housing project in Marathahalli, Jai Bhuvaneshwari Nagar and other areas is yet to be completed. The CM is just shooting in the air," said Issac Amruthraj, state convenor, Slum Janara Sanghathane.

Mobility tops Bengaluru agenda, time to devolve funds to plan panel

KATHYAYINI CHAMARAJ
Executive Trustee, CIVIC Bangalore

It appears that schemes for Bengaluru's development are equated only with traffic decongestion, as if that is its only problem. Several projects are foreseen for ensuring 'seamless mobility', totalling more than Rs 8,000 crore. Many of these road projects are being undertaken against scientific advice that they will not solve the problem of traffic congestion in Bengaluru. Have these plans been approved by the recently formed Bengaluru Metropolitan Land Transport Authority (BMLTA) which is mandated to make transport plans for Bengaluru as part of the Comprehensive Mobility Plan based on the Master Plan, or are these ad hoc plans being announced by the powers-that-be? One does not know.

Rather than this, it is time the State government devolved funds to the Metropolitan Planning Committee, the decentralised planning body for Bengaluru, to perform the tasks devolved to ULBs in the 12th Schedule. The MPC could then make plans in a bottom-up manner, as per the wishes of a majority of citizens, who would rather have their basic rights met, and have little use for transportation projects fulfilling the luxury needs of the minority of private car owners.

As a sop, the budget says, "Providing quality education and health facilities are also given focus by our government." Compare this with the promise to spend Rs 5,000 crore for the development of entire Kalyana Karnataka. When will this Bengaluru-centric so-called 'development' be given up?

It is heartening that action will be taken for processing waste produced in Bengaluru. Auto tippers and compactors designed for collection of dry and wet waste will be operationalised. Hopefully, these will be covered vehicles where workers don't sit on the garbage and handle waste with their bare hands. A modern technology-based odourless waste processing unit will be established in each ward. One hopes this too will not remain a promise, as a direction to do this within three months was issued by the High Court in 2012!

To mitigate the ill-effects of climate change and control floods in Bengaluru, a project will be implemented with the assistance of the World Bank, at a cost of Rs 3,000 crore. A sum of Rs 1,813 crore has been provided to undertake development of 195km of drainage and culverts. But will future encroachment of lake beds, buffer zones, rajakaluves, etc., be prevented by taking action against officials permitting violation of land use, zoning and building bylaw violations? Hopefully, the promise to prevent encroachment of BBMP property and protect such property, through fencing, erecting boards and surveillance through GPS software, at a cost of Rs 35 crore, will be implemented in good faith.

RS 350 CR
For elevated road, integrated flyover

To ease traffic congestion from Tin Factory to KR Puram and Whitefield, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced an elevated road project between Tin Factory and Medahalli and an integrated flyover from Yeshwanthpur Railway Station to Mathikere and BEL Road, at a cost of `350 crore, giving direct access to all these areas. These stretches are notorious for traffic bottlenecks and vehicles take hours during peak hours. ENS

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

18TH February : Did you ever wonder why actors and pop singers are called stars? It's because of the ancient tradition which held that the stars were the souls of dead heroes. If you were a great king or queen - or warrior - in the ancient world, then a place was saved for you in heaven, in one of the constellations. And, once there, you were forever part of the greatest show in the universe - the night sky.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You have a reputation for getting your own way. In part, this is others' fault for allowing themselves to be overruled. However, today may I advise you to be extra sensitive to partners' rather delicate feelings. The more pleasant you are to them, the nicer they'll be to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You could be at your most persuasive. This really is a sociable day and you should make great play of your ability to bring people together. Prospects for those in the property market are distinctly better than average but, as usual, your planning has to be perfect.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The various relationships between Mars, Mercury, Venus and Jupiter are perfectly optimistic in their inclinations, and should suit you down to the ground. This is a time to get on with your favourite tasks, to exchange information, make short trips and generally chase your special ambitions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your particular brand of sensitivity is one we could all learn from. Powerful emotional alignments suit your mood and may encourage you to put yourself on the line as far as one special relationship is concerned. You'll need all the courage and confidence at your disposal.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Slowly but surely you ought to be reassuring partners of your loyalty and dedication. The lesson to learn at the moment is that partnerships must be worked at. This simple truth is quite compatible with the fun, pleasure and enjoyment that come from special associations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Other people hold the key. It doesn't matter whether your speciality is a working partnership, a romantic liaison or just friendship in general. All that is important is that you open your heart. Once you do that, then other people may respond in the ways that you always hoped they would.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
What you can do now is take a much firmer line with children. You should also realise that there are many chores to be completed and tasks to be done, even if you are in the mood for a day off. Your best approach is to call in a long-forgotten favour.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
As the Moon moves to and fro between challenging regions of your chart and harmonious ones, the chances for romantic happiness improve. You should seize the opportunity to enjoy yourself, regardless of whether your interests are high-brow or low.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Once again, home and family affairs occupy your attention. It may be a day to indulge in your favourite practical tasks, or to enjoy the company of your favourite relations. Friendly communication with everyone is the top theme for the next twenty-four hours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is a great temptation to talk about subjects of which you know nothing. If you can get away with a bluff, do so by all means. On the other hand, if facts are important, you may care to get a second opinion. That's especially the case if you're risking your own cash.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The time has come to clear the decks, as I think you know. As long as you have major personal matters in hand, you may indulge a financial whim. If spending plans are your top priority, then it looks as if frivolities may be a better buy than necessities.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are so many thought-provoking planetary patterns at the moment, but the dominant mood is emotional. My hope is that we will see the very best of your caring, compassionate sensitivity. My concern is that you may be a little too ready to build molehills into quite unnecessary mountains.

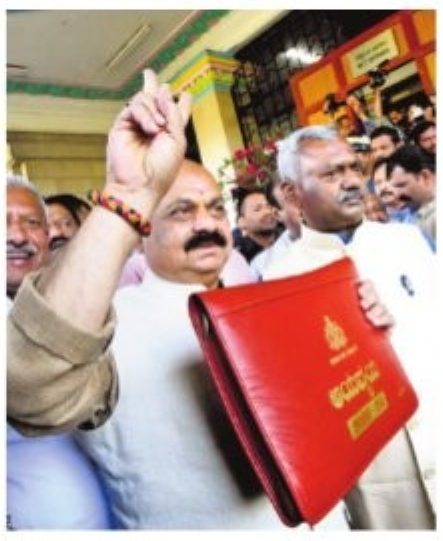
BUDGET PROMISES

BJP faces tough task to woo voters in poll-bound K'taka

RAMU PATIL @ Bengaluru



CM Basavaraj Bommai poses for the shutterbugs before presenting the budget at Vidhana Soudha on Thursday

AS expected, the state budget presented in a politically charged atmosphere has many ambitious programmes focussing on farmers, women and students, apart from a renewed focus on the development of Bengaluru. But, the big question is — will the budget announcements help the ruling party woo the voters in the poll-bound state?

BJP will go to voters with all the announcements made in the budget as it will ramp up its election campaign after the budget session ends on February 24.

Free education in government PU and degree college and free bus passes for working women and girl students, various programmes aimed at women and an increase in interest-free loans to farmers from Rs 3 lakh to Rs 5 lakh will be among the key highlights that the party is likely to emphasise during the electioneering.

The budget announcement on the building of a Ram Temple in Ramanagara and Rs 1,000 crore for the development of temples and mutts in two years, seems to be part of BJP's larger strategy to woo its key constituents.

Bommai's efforts to shore up the party's prospects in the state capital with 28 seats are evident from the focus on the tech city development by allocating nearly Rs 10,000 crore. Bengaluru will be a key part of the BJP poll strategy as it had not done particularly well in the 2018 polls. With many key leaders from Congress in Bengaluru joining its ranks, the BJP will be hoping to do well. But mere budget announcements alone will not be enough as a lot depends on election management at the constituency and even at the booth level.

The tough task before the BJP leaders will be to convince the voters that they are not mere proposals made weeks before the model code of conduct comes into force, and not a precursor to the party's election manifesto that will be implemented after polls if the party returns to power. The BJP's task becomes even more difficult as the opposition Congress is announcing populist programmes ahead of the polls and questioning the government over the implementation of the announcements made in the previous budgets and the BJP's manifesto ahead of the 2018 polls.

To dent the opposition attack and to gain credence among the voters, the government is likely to make most of the time available at its disposal to implement what was announced in the last budget.

On Friday, the CM indicated it even as he dismissed the Opposition's allegations by stating that GOs were issued in 90% of announcements made in the last budget.

BJP state general secretary and MLC N Ravi Kumar is confident about the budget announcements helping the party. The Congress, however, dismissed it stating none of the programmes announced will be implemented.

Political analyst Prof Sandeep Shastri is sceptical about budget announcements having an impact on voters. "In an election year, the budget will always be a soft budget giving all concessions to voters. That is what has happened. BJP has tried to focus on its key constituents. But, from the citizens' point of view, the budget is not about what is presented, but what is implemented. Citizens are going to evaluate this budget based upon their assessment of BJP's performance," he said. The BJP does not seem to be focusing too much on the state government's achievements or performance and is focusing more on the Centre's performance and other issues, he added.

The BJP leaders, however, said the focus will continue to be on the performance of the double-engine governments.

REACTIONS

Kannadigas know there is no question of the BJP returning to power. The BJP has ruined the state financially in three years. Now Karnataka is standing in front of the Centre with a begging bowl."

Comprehensive approach for climate-smart agriculture lacking

DR TN PRAKASH KAMMARADI
Agriculture expert and former chairman of Karnataka Agriculture Price Commission

THE allocation towards agriculture, including irrigation that is close to his heart, forms around 21 per cent of the second budget presented by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bomnai. Though this appears not inadequate, the state which has got the second highest dry area next only to Rajasthan and facing recurrent climatic catastrophes, a comprehensive approach towards climate smart agriculture is lacking.

In the backdrop of the recent central government budget which has given a fillip to popularise consumption of millets, the support of Rs 10,000 per hectare to millet growers, coupled with the promotion of processing and value addition through FPOs, is a good step.

Similarly, the continuation of input subsidy for fertilisers, seeds, pesticides and diesel along with support to use machines post harvest operation is a welcome decision as agriculture in the state has turned into high cost and high labour-intensive farming.

But all these measures are barely adequate to address the crises-ridden farm sector in Karnataka that has been continuously maintaining its dubious record of being caught up with farmers' suicide as pointed out by recent government records. The decision to provide crop loans with zero interest up to Rs 5 lakh rupees is a right step, but this needs to be extended to storage in the form of pledge loans.

The price stabilisation fund has been enlarged to the extent of Rs 3,500 crore to undertake market intervention if prices crash immediately after harvesting. If this paves way for enhancing the procurement mechanism coupled with ensuring MSP and strengthening the existing Agricultural Price Commission, it would definitely rekindle hope among the toiling masses that has been on the agitating path over the last few years.

CM 'exit budget': Congress says it with flowers

ENS @Bengaluru

CM Basavaraj Bommai's budget is an "exit budget" for the BJP government which cannot implement it as the finance department did not give consent for spending in the month of March, CLP leader Siddaramaiah said. "Only 56 per cent of the grants allocated in the current fiscal year have been spent. Will you spend the remaining 44 per cent in the next 15 days?" he questioned, adding that the treasury will be locked.

In the Assembly, Congress members wore flowers behind their ears, sending a symbolic message 'Kiwi mele hoova' (meaning fooling people), and created a ruckus when Bommai was reading the budget.

"The budget size is Rs 3,09,182 crore. In the last budget, 206 new programmes were announced, of which 56 were never implemented," Siddaramaiah said. The government led the state into a debt trap of Rs 5,64,896 crore. Last year, Rs 14,000 crore principal was used to repay loans, and now Rs 34,000 crore will go in the form of interest, a combined Rs 48,000 crore for debt repayment."

Former CM HD Kumaraswamy said Bommai's budget holds no significance. "Everyone knows the election budget cannot be implemented," he remarked. "Kannadigas know there is no question of the BJP returning to power. The BJP has ruined the state financially in three years," he said.

Economic Survey puts state's GDP growth at 7.9%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state's gross domestic product grew at 7.9% during 2022-23, revealed the Economic Survey, which was released on the day of the budget on Friday, though normally it comes out a day or two before the budget.

The survey stated that the per capita income has increased from Rs 2,65,623 to Rs 3,01,673 with a growth rate of 13.6% at current prices. It has gone up from Rs 1,64,471 to Rs 1,76,383 with a growth rate of 7.2% at constant prices during the same period. The agriculture sector is expected to grow at 5.5% in 2022-23 as against 8.7% in 2021-22, which was a 15.2% jump from the previous year as there was a reverse migration from urban to rural areas due to Covid restrictions.

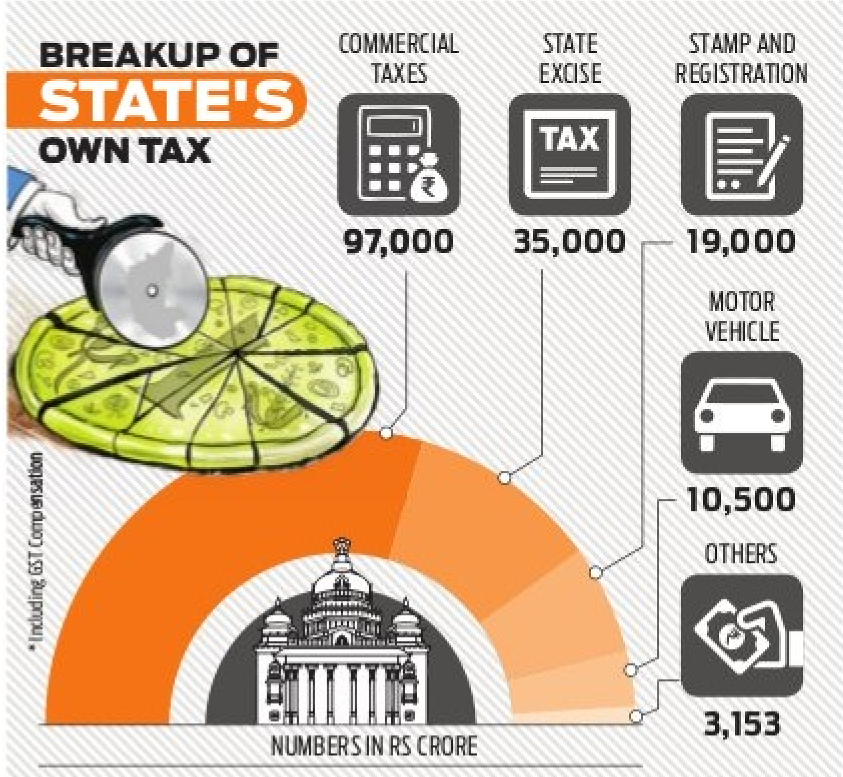
The industry sector is anticipated to reach a 5.1% growth rate in 2022-23 as against 10.3% in 2021-22 and -3.4% in 2020-21 showing a gradual recovery from Covid-19 distress.

The service sector is expected to reach a 9.2% growth rate in 2022-23 as against 10.3% in 2021-22 and -6% in 2020-21. This is because of the growth in IT-related services from -9% in 2020-21 and 5.4% in 2021-22 to 9.6% in 2022-23.

The report noted that the state maintained its fiscal deficit at 3.26% well within the 4% target of the GDP. It noted that Karnataka attracted FDI of $39.36 billion between October 2019 and September 2022, which is 23% of the accruals for the entire country. Investment projects worth Rs 2.37 lakh crore were approved, creating employment opportunities to 1.95 lakh people between April and December 2022.

Encouraging agri-tech startups, agro-processing, multiple cropping, micro-irrigation expansion, encashment of carbon credits, silvi horticulture, etc. would take the growth of the agriculture sector from 14.8% to 18.8%. The standalone agriculture GDP is forecast to grow from Rs 3.09 lakh crore to Rs 16.5 lakh crore by 2032.

The report stated that around 15,000 acres of available industrial land in Vijayapura, Ballari, Dharwad, Shivamogga, Hassan, Ramanagara, Tumakuru and Chikkaballapur will be optimally utilised. Private sub-sector 'plug and play' industrial clusters will push the growth of MSMEs beyond Bengaluru and generate employment to around 50 lakh people.



Rs 6,000cr for implementing 7th Pay panel recommendation

BENGALURU: CHIEF MINISTER Basavaraj Bommai said Rs 6,000 crore has been allocated for implementation of the 7th Pay Commission recommendations. Bommai said the government has already set up the commission, chaired by retired chief secretary Sudhakar Rao, which is studying the revision of government employees' salaries. "If needed, additional funds will be included in the supplementary budget. We are committed to implementing the commission report this year itself. We will implement it at the earliest," he added. The Chief Minister made the announcement in the post-budget press conference after the state government employees' association members expressed displeasure over not having a mention of the pay commission recommendation in the budget presented earlier in the day. ENS

Just weeks to go, CM says will implement all

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMIDST scepticism from the Opposition over the state budget, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai expressed confidence that his government will implement the budgetary announcements despite the outlay increasing by 16 per cent (Rs 43,462 crores) compared to last year.

"Since there is a month-and-a-half left, all expenditure will be met. Everything is within the fiscal standard and there is an increase in revenue with the fiscal deficit maintained well within 3 per cent. The overall debt burden for GSDP should be within 25 per cent; that has been maintained. And there is an increase in revenue. We are taking the economy in the right direction," Bommai told reporters.

He hoped that the people will vote the BJP back to power, considering the government's performance. "The budget has been presented without imposing new taxes on the people, however, bringing reforms in administration and efficiency in tax. People will not only look at our past achievements, but also have confidence on our budget that will give BJP victory," he replied to a query. "When there was no Covid-19, Siddaramaiah had borrowed loans to the tune of Rs 2 lakh crore and we have been repaying Rs 13,000 crore. Since the size has increased, there was an increase in the quantum of loan raised," he defended.

"During the Covid period, the state budget was a revenue-deficit one. Economists had predicted that it would take about five years for a surplus budget. But in just two years, we have presented a surplus budget," he explained.

Average revenue increased by 23 per cent, and borrowing will be within Rs 72,000 crore, as it was Rs 69,000 crore

When the budget size increases, the debt also increases and there is scope to borrow. The fiscal deficit has been maintained at 2.6 per cent, since it should be within 3 per cent. Capital expenditure has increased by 30 per cent.

Former CM B S Yediyurappa hailed Bommai for "presenting a pro-people budget", despite the pandemic situation and global recession. "Measures have been taken to double farmer income, different categories of people have been given benefits, and Bengaluru's development has also been given priority. The state has been prospering thanks to the BJP government," he remarked.

AGRICULTURE

FACED with the challenge of wooing voters ahead of assembly elections, CM Basavaraj Bommai has attempted to keep farmers in good humour with a slew of new programmes.

As farmers had turned against the government over amendment to the APMC Act, and were demanding withdrawal of the three controversial farm laws, the chief minister made a calculated move to win over peasants, announcing an increase in interest-free loans from Rs 3lakh to Rs 5lakh, that would help 30 lakh farmers in debt. Bommai announced Rs 39,031 crore for agriculture and allied activities, that include 'Bhoosiri', with the government extending an additional Rs 10,000 financial support to nearly 50 lakh farmers who have Kisan Credit Cards, to purchase seeds, fertilisers and pesticides. Though the Yashaswini health insurance scheme has been re-introduced across states, the government announced the Jeevan Jyothi life insurance scheme to be implemented at a cost of Rs 180 crore, to provide insurance cover up to Rs 2 lakh per farmer, covering 56 lakh small and marginal farmers. It also announced a Rs 3,500-crore Revolving Fund Corpus under Minimum Support Price. The government is improving basic infrastructure at cocoon markets, and will build a hi-tech silk cocoon market costing Rs 75 crore in Sidlaghatta, Asia's second biggest silk market.

However, State Sugarcane Growers' Association president Kurubur Shanthakumar called it a poll-oriented budget, welcomed the increase in interest-free loans from Rs 3 lakh to Rs 5 lakh, and wanted it extended to nationalised banks. Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha chief Badagalapura Nagendra said: "the budget lacked vision, and is a balance sheet prepared by babus, and not pro-farmer."

Not all are happy with ₹25,000 cr for irrigation

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

IRRIGATION

EVEN as Bommai's budget was expected to set aside huge funds for the irrigation sector for the effective implementation of some of the major projects, including the Upper Krishna Project (UKP-III stage), Upper Bhadra, Mahadayi, development of lakes, etc., a meagre Rs 25,000 crore has been granted for the sector.

However, the government continues to neglect the Upper Krishna Project, one of the major irrigation projects in the country which is being implemented at a snail's pace for the past few decades due to meagre fund allocation over the years.

Irrigation experts have appealed to the government to start work on UKP-III and all other major irrigation projects for which the funds have been granted in the budget before the model code of conduct comes into force for the Assembly elections.

"The funds set aside for the irrigation sector have been extremely meagre given the fact that the UKP-III alone needs nearly Rs 1 lakh crore for its completion. Only Rs 5000 crore fund has been set aside for UKP-III in this year's budget and this will not suffice even for the rehabilitation of 22 villages, which will be affected due to the project," said an expert in the field.

According to sources, the government is expected to provide Rs 6 lakh per acre as compensation to the dry land to be acquired under UKP-III and Rs 8 lakh per acre for wetlands.

The Upper Bhadra Project would be getting Rs 5,300 crore central grants as announced by the CM in the budget for the current fiscal.

During his budget speech, Bommai announced the release of Rs 1,000 crore for the contentious Kalasa-Banduri project under which water will be diverted from the Mahadayi river into Malaprabha. It is highly unlikely that the State Government will be able to launch this project until it gets the needed permission from the Ministry of Forest and Environment. Among the other important irrigation works for which funds have been set aside include Rs 443 crore to take up 138 surface minor irrigation projects in Yadgir and Kalaburagi districts and Rs 378 crore for implementation of works under Paschimavahini second stage project. Also, Rs 11,236 crore has been set aside separately for implementation of 38 projects to create 1.5 lakh acre irrigation potential across the state. Bommai announced that his government would initiate action to complete tank filling projects of Sasalatti-Shivalingeshwara, Manturu-Mahalakshmi and Shri Venkateshwara lift irrigation schemes and Purigali micro irrigation project.

President of Karnataka Sugarcane Growers' Association Kuruburu Shanthakumar has termed it as a budget presented with elections in sight. However, he welcomed the decision of the government to earmark Rs 5,000 crore for UKP-III and Rs 2,000 crore for lake development.

4,000 child care centres in urban areas to accommodate building and construction workers' children

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced "She Toilet" facilities for women, free bus passes and Rs 500 monthly incentive to landless women in agriculture in the state budget on Friday.

For Financial Year 2023-24, Rs 46,278 crore has been allocated for women welfare and Rs 47,256 crore for child welfare. Bommai also announced construction of 1,000 anganwadi buildings and increased the honorarium for Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHA) workers, anganwadi, midday meal and librarians by Rs 1,000 for improving the quality of health, education and nutrition in the sectors.

ASHA union state secretary, D Nagalakshmi welcomed the announcement of a hike in honorarium.

However, she said that it did not match their expectations, but their struggle has brought results.

The government should guarantee all basic facilities, she said. Rupa Rani, director, FKCCI, called the announcements of free bus passes and toilet facilities a campaign tactic to attract women voters.

Even the Gruhini Shakti scheme of providing Rs 500 incentive to landless women will not be much effect and instead a pension scheme would have been more beneficial for them, she said.

Bommai said Rs 725 crore has been allocated under Raitha Vidya Nidhi scheme to cater to 1,032 lakh children of landless agricultural labourers, weavers, fishermen, yellow board taxi drivers and autorickshaw drivers.

Also, the Annupalana Gruhas providing shelter to girls in the age group of 18-21 have been extended to boys this year.

Four care institutions will be constructed for which ₹2 crore has been allocated.

₹146cr for first govt hosp for organ transplant

AKNISREE KARTHIK
@ Bengaluru

HEALTH experts have hailed the budget allocation of Rs 146 crore for the construction of India's first public hospital dedicated to organ transplant. They opine that this will lead to an increase in organ donations. Experts lauded the budget for laying stress on public health initiatives with healthcare infrastructure well addressed.

Dr Jagadish Hiremath, chairman, AASRA Hospital, said: "Karnataka stands second in South India in organ donation. A dedicated hospital for organ donation is certainly a great move as several people will be able to get a new lease of life." He said that this would also lead to an increase in organ donations.

"By setting up the country's first public hospital dedicated to organ transplant the government is not only creating awareness but also giving the public easy access to such facilities" Dr Shafiq A M, Director & CEO, Specialist Hospital.

They welcomed the setting up of an automatic and centralised Blood Bank Management System at Rs 5 crore in Bengaluru Medical College and Research Institution and said it's a big boost to the healthcare infrastructure and will greatly help increase the availability of blood for surgeries.

Establishment of 10 mother and child hospitals at a cost of Rs 165 crore to provide good quality care to pregnant women, mothers and neonates, setting up of 65 Primary Health Centres at a cost of Rs 137 crore, the commencement of IVF Clinics in 4 Institutes of Medical Sciences of Bengaluru, Hubballi, Mysuru and Kalaburagi at ₹6 crore, allocation of ₹100 crore to eradicate anaemia among neonates, children, adolescents, pregnant & lactating are some of the major health announcements in the budget. "Upgrading health centres and building hospitals with reliable facilities is a big boost for the state's healthcare infrastructure. Programmes such as 'Mane Manege Arogya Scheme', cancer screening camps will prove beneficial for the people" said Dr Jagadish.

Stress on edu lauded, but 'focus off NEP'

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced several initiatives and programmes for the benefit of students and unemployed youth in the state budget he presented on Friday. The announcements include free education for students studying in government pre-university and degree colleges under the CM Vidya Shakti Scheme.

While the allocation for the education sector has been lauded by many, some have expressed their reservations against some areas which have been overlooked.

"Free education for students, renovation of government schools and free bus passes to all girl students in the state are in resonance with the student movement," said Ajay Kamath, state secretary, All India Democratic Organisation (AIDSO), Karnataka.

"The decision to pay the entire fee of 500 students for academic excellence in rural government Kannada medium schools and selecting them for professional courses under government quota is a welcome measure to uplift the underprivileged," said Niru Agarwal, trustee, Greenwood High International School.

Meanwhile, two new schemes - 'Badukuva Daari' and 'Yuvasnehi' - have been introduced to help youth who are unable to pursue their higher education or attain a job. Both schemes provide stipends for youth to help them gain skills under Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) and undertake competitive examinations.

"With the increase in allocation, the state government has shown its commitment to invest in the education sector and create opportunities for skill development. With these measures, the state will be able to fund and support more apprenticeship programmes across various industries and bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application," said Sumit Kumar, Chief Business Officer, TeamLease.

However, some say that despite the initiatives, there has been no mention of overall development. "The budget is highly individualistic and has abandoned its focus on the implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP). We had put forth several demands like providing insurance cover to teachers as well as financial aid for unaided private schools, which have all gone unheard. It's very unfortunate," Shashi Kumar D, general secretary of the Karnataka Associated Management of Schools (KAMS) told TNIE.

REACTIONS

With the number of cancer cases on the rise in Karnataka, I applaud the budget's prioritisation of cancer screening. There is no doubt that early detection of cancer improves clinical outcomes and saves lives. Moving forward, it will also be important to improve access to affordable cancer care after diagnosis. Another area that needs more attention is holistic cancer support and patient education services to help both patients and caregivers navigate the difficult world of care

The budget has given a boost to real estate with enhanced capital expenditure and high infrastructure spend. The focus on reconstruction of roads, establishment of integrated townships, construction of state and national highways in different regions of the state, and construction of houses for economically weaker sections will go a long way in boosting real estate. These proposals from the state budget will further get a push from the Union budget which had hiked allocation for PM Awas Yojana. This hike is a great news in the affordable housing market and increase in allocation will help the government achieve its goal of providing affordable housing to all.

This budget is a mixed bag for bus commuters. We welcome Makkala Bus Scheme through which additional buses will be operated across the state to benefit students. The free bus scheme for women is a step in the right direction. Women workers in the unorganised sector are the more vulnerable. Therefore, it is puzzling why the unorganised women workers are left out of the scheme. Allocation of ₹500 crore for 1,200 buses for all four RTCs is not even close to being sufficient.

Cloud-based data centre to be set up at ₹590 cr

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Friday proposed to create cloud-based state data centre 3.0 at a cost of Rs 590 crore. This centre will cater to various departments of the state government and public sector undertakings.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said IT is being used extensively in the administration system of the state and the security of this system is a top priority. "Keeping this in mind, 24x7 Cyber Security Operation Centre (CSOC) with cyber experts using modern technology will be established to ensure safety of government websites, online services and data security," he said.

Welcoming the move, Kayzad Vanskuiwalla, director, Cyber Threat Detection and Analytics, Securonix, said this move would not only help in keeping pace with the latest technologies, but in also avoiding the increasing cost involved in upgrading and maintaining these technologies.

"This move helps India to be equipped with the responsiveness and scalability that cloud has to offer. Cloud-based technologies and data centres will improve security and accessibility for critical infrastructure," he said.

"Cloud-service providers should be held accountable in a shared responsibility model by conducting regular audits and continuous monitoring within the CSOC. The precedent set by the Karnataka government will be seen as a model for other states and corporates," he added. Also, the announcement comes at a time when there is increased focus on addressing phishing and hacking attempts. According to ResearchAndMarkets, the Indian cyber security market is expected to achieve a market value of $3543.37 million by FY2027.

'PASS MARK' BUDGET FOCUSES ON DEVPT & REVENUE, NOT POLLS

THE Karnataka budget 2023 is an interesting one – one had expected it to be a very populist election-oriented one, with elections literally just months ahead. While Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai did have elections in mind while framing the budget, yet it did not go the whole hog the election way. Some schemes, like specific allocation for Bengaluru, can be treated both ways – most charitably, it can be seen as towards development of Bengaluru; but on the other hand, the problems are not new, so why wait for an election year to make the announcements. Similarly, for some tourism development plans and rural electrification.

On the other hand, it is good that because of election pressure, such issues are being highlighted and allocations made. However, schemes like building a Ram temple could have been avoided – should the government be in this business. Also, the dog adoption scheme -- while it is good and will appeal to dog lovers, the larger question it begets is whether governments should get into such projects and if so, why just for dogs and not other animals.

On the revenue side, the government seems to have done well, with a surplus being projected and tax income being quite buoyant – is that a reflection of post-Covid recovery and therefore, pent-up expenditure, or a more permanent feature is something to be seen. Another bit to worry about is the dependence on Central funds – as it is, Central funds have not really come in a timely manner.

Further, with other state elections coming up after Karnataka elections, leading up to parliamentary elections in 2024, how much the Centre indulges the Karnataka government is something to be watched. All these funds would be key to the ability to fulfil budget promises.

On the whole, the budget seems to have got pass marks – it could have been a lot worse, but the intent seems to be not entirely election-oriented. However, like all other government schemes, the devil lies in the detail, and more so in the implementation process. The success of the budget should be evaluated once the schemes have been implemented in a time-bound manner.

Garuda-Narayana pact to carry bio supplies using drones

ENS @ Bengaluru

DRONE technology solutions provider Garuda Aerospace on Friday announced a partnership with Narayana Health for transporting biomedical samples using drones called 'Sanjeevani'.

The partnership aims to revolutionise the delivery of critical and emergency medical supplies, including samples for diagnosis, in times of high traffic and other challenging conditions. The technology and expertise of Garuda Aerospace in the health sector have been leveraged in recent times, and with this, Narayana Health will be able to transport biomedical samples quickly, ensuring that patients receive timely diagnoses and treatment. This will also ensure that the ones in remote underserved areas are helped too. During the pandemic, Garuda Aerospace used its emergency drones to deliver medicine and vaccinations to hospitals in partnership with Swiggy.

Narayana Health Chairman and Executive Director Dr Devi Shetty said, "We are committed to delivering the best possible care to our patients and the use of drones to transport biomedical samples is a critical step in achieving that goal. The partnership will allow us to leverage Garuda's expertise to improve the delivery of medical supplies and enhance the quality of care provided." In the first phase, drones will be deployed in Bengaluru to transfer biomedical samples from Narayana Health City and HSR Layout on a daily basis, he added.

Scrap over parking leads to murders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TWO persons, including a 16-year-old boy, were stabbed to death by a group of assailants in Doddabelavangala village in Doddaballapura taluk, on the city outskirts on Friday afternoon.

It is suspected that the murders were a fallout of a fight during a cricket tournament organised by the villagers for Maha Shivaratri festival. The victims are P Bharath (22), an engineering graduate and employee with a private firm, and Prateesh (16), a I PU student, and residents of Doddabelavangala village. The accused reportedly parked their car on a school playground where the tournament was organised. Villagers objected and asked the accused to remove the car, which sparked off an argument. The accused went away from the spot.

Around 3.30pm, the victims were standing in a bakery when the accused suddenly appeared, chased the duo and murdered them. The accused fled after the double murder. Police found that the four accused had come as part of a group of 10 people. The victims succumbed to injuries during treatment.

"It is not clear if the victims had any role in the argument on the playground. The accused, who are suspected to be from neighbouring Hulikunte village, were reportedly enraged when they were asked to remove their car. They must have murdered the victims in a fit of rage," said an officer who is part of investigations. Doddabelavangala police in Bengaluru Rural police limits are investigating.

Body of poacher from TN village found in Cauvery

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

INTERSTATE vehicular traffic came to a halt on the Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border after a body of a man allegedly involved in poaching was found in Palar.

Raju (45), a resident of Govindapadi in Mettur, along with three others, had crossed Cauvery river to enter Gopinatham forest in MM Hills police station limits. It is alleged that he was trying to hunt two deer.

After hearing gunshots, the guards from the Karnataka forest department reached the spot and the accused opened fire at forest personnel. As both the parties exchanged fire, three accused managed to escape.

The forest personnel seized two country-made guns along with two carcasses of deer, and lodged a complaint with the MM Hills police.

When residents from the nearby villages found a body floating in the Cauvery near Palar, many from Govindapadi and local MLA Sadashivam visited the spot and held talks with the forest officials.

Cause of death

The body was shifted to Mettur hospital for postmortem and was handed over to the family members. They are yet to ascertain whether the accused died due to gunshots or he drowned in the river.

The Karnataka police have banned vehicular movement and deployed additional police forces, including from the KSRP and DAR platoons, near the checkpost to avoid any untoward incident or retaliation from the Govindapadi village.

It may be recalled that people from Govindapadi and neighbouring villages had set fire to the checkpost after they found the body of Palani, a poacher in Cauvery.

'Probe deaths caused due to bad water'

ENS @ Bengaluru

TAKING cognisance of a report – 2 die, 34 fall ill after drinking contaminated water in Yadgir – published in TNIE on February 16, 2023, Karnataka Lokayukta Justice B S Patil has ordered a probe.

EXPRESS IMPACT

"As per Sec 58 of the Karnataka Gram Swaraj and Panchayat Raj Act, it is the basic function of the Gram Panchayat to maintain and monitor water supply schemes within the GP area. However, as could be seen from the news item in TNIE, there was failure/negligence on the part of authorities concerned in providing safe drinking water to the villagers of Anupur. It is the duty and obligation of the GP to provide safe drinking water. Failure on the part of authorities to provide safe drinking water amounts to a violation of fundamental rights," he said.

TRUANT WEATHER MAY SPOIL RABI CROP, IMPACT FOOD INFLATION

Deficient winter rains and a possible early onset of hot spells threaten the rabi crop, especially wheat, in Punjab and Haryana. But the spell extends to the east—experts say the lack of moisture in the winter air adversely affects the wheat crop in Jharkhand. According to the MeT department, January rainfall witnessed a huge shortfall and stood at its lowest in five years. Scientists blame the dry spell on the lack of western disturbances over northwest and central India. Due to this climatic change, the winter air does not have enough moisture which is crucial for wheat growth.

The reduced production of wheat in the current rabi season is likely to affect the overall availability of foodgrain and may also impact food inflation. The government had foreseen the situation and continued the export ban on wheat. It has also offloaded around 30 lakh tonnes of grain into the open market to keep prices in check. The free ration scheme has considerably depleted the government's reserves, and it was hoping to replenish the buffer stock with the current rabi yield. But the weather is playing truant. With harvest time barely two months away, experts say that the country would be lucky if it can touch last year's level despite the fact that farmers have sown wheat on more land than the previous year.

The decline in production last year resulted in food prices shooting up and food inflation touching double digits. India could not export wheat as announced by the government. The world was facing a shortage of wheat as supplies had stopped from Russia and Ukraine due to the war. A similar situation has not been ruled out this year. But with the possibility of production reaching the expected levels, the government is likely to procure less to allow procurement and sale by private players, which will maintain the availability of grain in the market.

The fear of less-than-expected rabi production has spotlighted the kharif crop, which has also been affected due to erratic rainfall. Paddy, the main kharif crop, reduced acreage by two million hectares last season due to the monsoon deficit in Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Jharkhand, West Bengal and Madhya Pradesh. Rice production reduced by 6.06% compared to the previous year. Climate change is impacting our rainfall and food security.

TEAR DOWN SYSTEMS THAT UPHOLD CASTE BIAS

It's been nearly two months since human excrement was found mixed in a 10,000-litre capacity overhead tank at Vengaivayal village in Tamil Nadu's Pudukkottai district that serves over 50 families belonging to a scheduled caste community. Even after days of a probe by an SIT, a special CB-CID team, and multiple protests by Dalit associations, a breakthrough in the case has been elusive, and the culprits are still at large. A petition seeking urgent action is pending with the Madras High Court.

The horrifying incident, which came to light after children fell sick and doctors flagged possible water contamination, is symbolic of the deep malice that ensnared our society for a long time. Despite centuries of entrenched caste hierarchy and social discrimination, governments have failed to dismantle the social structures that institutionalise, aid and reinforce such social prejudices. For instance, even after 75 years of Independence, community assets such as water tanks and crematoriums are built and operated by popular governments that have sworn allegiance to the Constitution and assumed office with the vow to not discriminate based on religion, caste, etc.

While individuals are punished by law for practising a two-tumbler system where people belonging to upper and lower castes are served beverages in different sets of utensils and stringent action is initiated for the use of casteist slurs under the SC/ST Prevention of Atrocities Act, what is the justification for the state to operate separate community assets such as water tanks for upper castes and lower castes? Why should the government build and maintain separate crematoria and water tanks for different communities and perpetuate and institutionalise historic discrimination? Death is a great leveller that annihilates differences among men, but mortality, too, fails to fill the chasm in people's hearts in India.

Governments have been reluctant to the point of failure to make places of worship equally accessible to all. Reports still abound about Dalits entering temples for the first time in their living memory, even in areas where they have lived for centuries. Recently, a senior politician in the state faced public ire after a video went viral in which he was seen scolding a Dalit boy for entering the temple. Unless the state acts proactively to tear down the steel frame that supports and internalises the differences, the caste cauldron will continue to singe humanity.

QUICK TAKE

RECRUITMENT LOGIC

Amid spiking joblessness, 2,500 new IT recruits may lose their jobs for failing their post-training test. Are the candidates badly skilled or is the onboarding process not qualitative, tailored to retain the required number and reject the rest? Transparency is necessary for periodic assessment of the quality of fresh graduates and efficiency of the recruitment system. Universities can then review their teaching programmes or company managements introspect on their intake plans. In the highly skilled IT environment, recruitment and final onboarding cannot be based on the logic that 100 candidates competing for one job means 99 have to be let go of.

Unsurprisingly, several countries wish to learn from India's experiment with DPI and Aadhaar, seeking to replicate it

INDIA LEADING THE WORLD THROUGH DIGITAL MAZE

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM

SOURAV ROY

India's digital success is generally known. It has enabled the country to handle the pandemic and attendant consequences better. By any metric, India's performance is far ahead of many so-called advanced countries. This success is based on digital public infrastructure (DPI).

Classically, "infrastructure" is anything that supports the economy, and traditional examples of infrastructure will be roads, railways, bridges and electricity, perhaps even water supply and sewage treatment. I think the first time the Economic Survey had a separate chapter on infrastructure was in 1980–81. In the 1980s, there was of course a lot of interest in the USA on what we will now call physical infrastructure. That 1980–81 chapter covered power, coal, railways and shipping/ports.

Today, no one will mention coal, and other items of infrastructure will be included. With fast advances in technology, "digital" is bound to be included. Infrastructure can be developed by the public sector or the private sector. Since there is market failure in some areas, some of this digital infrastructure will have to be publicly developed. Thus, the word "public" in DPI.

In October 2022, ORF (Observer Research Foundation) published a brief paper on creating "good" DPI. This was authored by Kriti Mittal, Varad Pande and Aishwarya Viswanathan.

To quote from this, "DPI comprises foundational population-scale technology systems on which the digital economy operates, such as identity systems, payment systems, data exchanges, and social registries… Today, DPI is increasingly being built using open-source and modular technologies that enable 'interoperability', which facilitates the exchange of information between different arms of the public and private sector, thereby, vastly improving the speed and scale of service delivery. This represents a paradigm shift from older end-to-end siloed systems, wherein governments provided end-to-end services through monolithic tech systems, to building minimal digital infrastructure that allows multiple actors to build solutions on top. DPI designed in this way can mean significant time and cost savings."

We get the general idea and hence, there is the notion of India Stack, a set of open APIs (Application Programming Interfaces) and digital public goods (with public goods not being used in the classic economist's sense). What is this India Stack? Most people will mention Aadhaar (identity) and UPI (United Payments Interface) because we use them the most and are most familiar with them. But there is more to India Stack—CoWin, DigiLocker, Aarogya Setu, Diksha, Umang, e-Sanjeevani, GeM, API Setu, e-Office and e-Hospital, not to forget GSTN. Aadhaar and UPI took some time to take off. So will these, with a lag. We need to recognise that all of these are part of the same overall jigsaw of DPI.

If we have done 2.21 billion vaccinations, that has been facilitated by CoWin. DigiLocker has 148 million registered users and 5.6 billion documents have been issued. Personally, I may not be that interested in digital versions of marksheets I can access anywhere, but I remember the days when I had to run around to get photocopies of marksheets attested. With the pandemic having eased and contact tracing no longer that important, Aarogya Setu has lost some of its relevance. But in its day, it was extremely important in fighting the Covid battle. Unless you are a student (or a teacher), you may not be that interested in Diksha. Nevertheless, the fact remains that 5.2 billion learners have used the Diksha infrastructure. Most of these learning sessions have been in Rajasthan, UP, MP, Odisha and Karnataka, driving home perhaps an obvious point. When there is an asymmetry in distribution of access to physical infrastructure, there is greater demand for the digital. In that sense, DPI empowers the relatively disadvantaged. There have been 50 million registrations and 3.4 billion transactions under Umang.

Relatively speaking, e-Sanjeevani probably lags. Even then, 93 million patients have been served. GeM dashboards, for government procurement, are no less impressive. API Setu is very specific, as is e-Office, for G2G transactions. Finally, like e-Sanjeevani, e-Hospital also seems to lag a bit.

Naturally, Aadhaar had a head start. It was the first piece in the building block. So far, 1.36 billion Aadhaar numbers have been generated. Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI) uses a concept of "saturation", to gauge what percentage of the population has been issued Aadhaar numbers. Naturally, this is highest for adults (age more than 18), lower for those between five and 18, and lowest for those who are under five years of age.

Since Census numbers are for 2011, any population figure after that is a projection or estimate. With that qualification, for adults, saturation is almost 95%. I can understand saturation being low in the northeast, Ladakh and J&K (by the way, low means in excess of 80% or even 85%). I don't understand why it should be 87% in Bihar. Therefore, for UIDAI, new Aadhaar generation tapers off and stabilises at a steady number of around 30 million a year. (The peak was in 2013–14.) The focus shifts to updating details and use of Aadhaar for authentication.

We may not realise it, but a staggering 70 million authentications are done every day—primarily for banking, telecom, PDS and MGNREGA. The traditional authentication mode has been biometry (fingerprints), other than OTPs and demographic data. As technology evolves, perhaps we will switch more to biometry through the face. If CISF is going to use facial recognition cameras at airports, why not elsewhere? It is difficult to quantify benefits of something like DPI, or Aadhaar in particular. But it should be obvious that DBT has curbed leakage, and financial inclusion and social security have become easier. Without this umbrella, portability of welfare benefits would have been difficult during the pandemic. Perhaps Aadhaar will eventually be linked with birth and death records, illegal residents and crime.

It shouldn't be surprising that India's success with DPI figures in the G-20 agenda. Nor should it be surprising that several countries wish to learn from India's experiment with DPI and Aadhaar, seeking to replicate it. It has been a remarkable success, in a relatively short period of time. I suspect most people have forgotten the name of Ranjana Sonawane. She was the first person to get an Aadhaar number (at that time, a card). That was in September 2010, not very long ago. The USA started its social security number system in 1935. Technology helped, but we used it through DPI.

DON'T DIG UP THE PAST TO VALIDATE TALES OF TODAY

SPEAKEASY

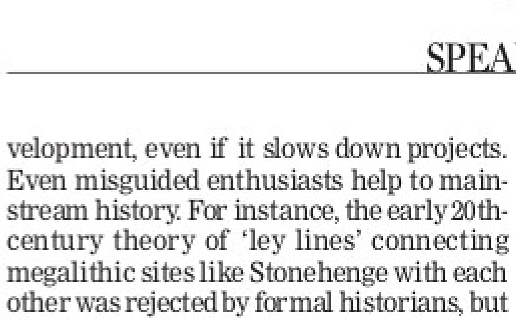
Looks like history is going to make news. In 2021–22, the fortunes of the Ministry of Culture had dwindled with a cut of 15% in the Union Budget, which committed more to the 'art and culture' category than others. Last year, the ministry recovered with a raise of 11.9%, and the focus turned to archaeology and celebrations—like Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, which it runs. This year's budget establishes archaeology as the ministry's lead project, with the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) bagging a third of the ministry's outlay.

ASI's list of digs for the year, announced this week, includes sites where new ground is being broken, like Keezhadi in Tamil Nadu, which has turned the clock back on the Sangam period, and happy hunting grounds like the Purana Qila in Delhi, where the veteran archaeologist B B Lal catalogued the Painted Grey Ware period, which came to be called the Mahabharata period. Thankfully, the Ram Setu controversy is not going to be revisited, and the squirrel in the Ramayana who contributed a few grains of sand to the project can rest in peace.

More financial backing for Indian archaeology has been overdue for decades, in which the only sign of the ASI at many important ruins was just that—a Chelpark-blue board threatening vandals with dire consequences. It had no effect, and ruins are liberally scrawled with the names of India's leading vandals and their girlfriends etched in stone.

In a 2013 audit, the Comptroller and Auditor General of India noted that heritage structures were also going missing. Its survey that tracked nearly half of the 3,693 centrally protected monuments listed 92 which had vanished from sight. The reasons for these forced disappearances are numerous, ranging from government action—submergence by new dams or being paved over by highways—to unplanned urban development, in which someone's tomb may be slowly absorbed into someone else's kitchen. But lack of funds is the most common culprit—Razia Sultana, one of the most discussed women in history, sleeps in a nondescript grave in Delhi because the mosque to which it is attached could never afford its upkeep.

The subcontinent has been under-excavated, unlike countries like the UK. Over there, the people are stakeholders in the project of unearthing the past and actively report finds unearthed in the course of development, even if it slows down projects. Even misguided enthusiasts help to mainstream history. For instance, the early 20th-century theory of 'ley lines' connecting megalithic sites like Stonehenge with each other was rejected by formal historians, but it focused enormous public interest on the remote past.



ANI

In India, there is a political project to impose an origin story upon a remote past whose validity is yet to be established beyond doubt

In India, on the other hand, the past is visible everywhere, but few people care about it. More intensive archaeology might increase public interest by telling the stories of the ruins, but some stories which establish identity need careful handling. Origin stories become compelling when archaeology validates the epics and other ancient literature. Troy would not have been discovered but for the doggedness of Heinrich Schliemann, a student of languages actually and, thereby of the epics. Its discovery validated the Homeric record as history set in a real landscape.

However, in Europe, the Enlightenment had established Greece as the mother culture long before the discovery of Troy turned literature into history. It was only a final validation of a universally accepted theory at a time when classical Greek was required reading in European higher education. In India, on the other hand, there is a political project to impose an origin story upon a remote past whose validity is yet to be established beyond doubt and to insist that all history that followed, like the Islamic empires, were corruptions of the original truth of a Golden Age.

History—and especially prehistory—is rarely so clear-cut. Fresh truths are constantly emerging as science re-reads the evidence with new tools. For instance, developments in climate science question old theories of invasion and conquest, and now it looks like climate change was a significant factor in the rise and fall of cultures. Paleogenetics reliably maps the spread of populations in the remote past and often does not support traditionally accepted theories.

The search for origin stories, like the proposed digs at Purana Qila, calls for two caveats. One that there is no immutable truth in history—we do not know the whole story, only the story so far. It is constantly reinterpreted as fresh information emerges with the help of new technologies. And two, in an illiberal majoritarian culture, origin stories easily become founding myths of a dominant race. In 20th-century Europe, the myth that blonde-haired, blue-eyed Aryans are the original, superior race easily took hold in the popular imagination. Never mind that the genetic mutation which allows this recessive trait to be expressed happened no more than 6,000–10,000 years ago. Before that, everyone on earth had dark hair and eyes.

In India, the same myth of Aryan dominance has prevailed, minus the blonde and blue special effects. It's no less potent for that, and fairness creams sell very well because, illogically, colour matters to us. Earlier, Indian archaeologists had become tools in the hands of the majoritarian cultural project. Now that they are getting the state financial backing they have always craved, it is important to remember that their job is not to validate anyone's theory about group origins. It is to interpret the remains of times past with the methods of science, not of politics.

BJP accuses US billionaire of plotting against democratically-elected govt in India

Modi would have to answer questions from foreign investors and Parliament on allegations the Adani Group is facing. The turmoil at Adani may open the door to a democratic revival in the country

George Soros, hedge fund manager

He (Soros) has not targeted only PM Modi, but also the Indian democratic system. This war is being mounted against India and what stands between the war and India's interests is Modi

Smriti Irani, Union minister

A remark on the ongoing turmoil in Gautam Adani-led group's affair by globally-renowned hedge fund manager George Soros has triggered a political slugfest in India with the BJP on Friday accusing Soros of plotting against the 'democratic system' of India and' 'democratically-elected government'.

The ruling party at the Centre also charged principal opposition party Congress of peddling the agenda of Soros.

The billionaire investor has recently opined that the turmoil being created in India after the Hindenburg report on Adani group companies will weaken the PM Narendra Modi-led government.

Speaking at the Munich Security Conference on Thursday, Soros had said Modi would "have to answer questions" from foreign investors and Parliament on allegations the Adani Group is facing. He had also said that the turmoil at Adani may open the door to a democratic revival in the country. He went on to say "India is an interesting case. It's a democracy, but its leader Narendra Modi is no democrat".

Going ballistic against George Soros, the BJP declared the Soros's statements a kind of 'declaration to destroy India's democratic processes. Stepping up attacks on Soros, Union minister Smriti Irani described him (Soros) an 'economic war criminal' nurturing ill-intentions against India.

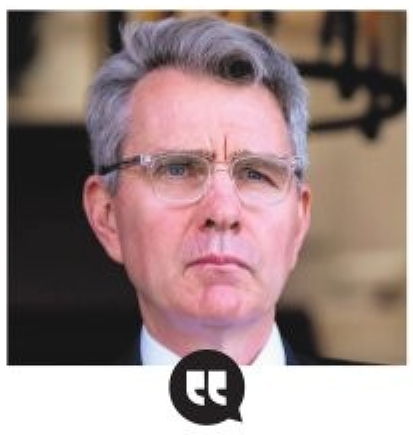
"He has not targeted only Prime Minister Narendra Modi, but also the Indian democratic system. This war is being mounted against India and what stands between the war and India's interests is Modi", Smriti Irani alleged at a media briefing here. Accusing Soros of plotting against India, the minister further alleged that Soros wants "hand-picked" people to run the government.

"As a citizen, I call upon every individual and organisations to denounce the intentions of such individual, who has expressed his ill-intentions to weaken our democratic system," Irani said, and hoped that people will again defeat such foreign elements. She lashed out at Soros saying that at a time when India has become the fifth largest economy and receiving gratitude by global leaders like the president of the USA, and the PM of UK for enabling employment not only in India but also in these three nations, such imperialist intentions of an entrepreneur has exposed a plot against India. She also accused him of attempting to support to have a pliable government in India to his needs for making his nefarious plans successful.

Divergent views emerge in Cong

The divergent views in Congress regarding the comments of billionaire investor George Soros on Adani, was palpable on Friday as Congress leaders Jairam Ramesh and Praveen Chakravarty took contrarian views on the issue. Congress chose to distance itself from the comments, saying that India's electoral process has nothing to do with George Soros. In a tweet, Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh said, "Whether the PM-linked Adani Group scam sparks a democratic revival in India depends entirely on the Congress, Opposition parties and our electoral process. It has nothing to do with George Soros," said.

'No contradiction in India remaining US partner'



India, by acting in its own interest, by driving a hard bargain to get the lowest price possible, is furthering the policy of our G7 coalition, our G7 plus partners in seeking to reduce Russian revenues

Geoffrey R Pyatt, Assistant Secretary of State for Energy Resources, US

NEW DELHI: By driving a hard bargain with Russia in procuring crude oil at the lowest price possible, India is furthering the policy of G7 and Washington is "comfortable" with New Delhi over its approach in addressing issues relating to energy security, a top Biden administration official said.

In an exclusive interview to PTI, Assistant Secretary of State for Energy Resources Geoffrey R Pyatt said there is "no contradiction at all" in India remaining one of the key global partners of the US and the country's increasing procurement of discounted crude oil from Russia.

The comments are the first clear articulation of the Biden administration's position on India's increasing procurement of discounted crude oil from Russia amid the Ukraine conflict. Asked whether the US will impose secondary sanctions on Indian banks if they use the Rupee-Ruble mechanism set up by India and Russia for bilateral trade, the top diplomat chose not to speculate on it but said Washington's sanctions are aimed at hurting Moscow.

The US Assistant Secretary of State for Energy also said the Indian companies are "very successfully" negotiating the price for Russian crude oil which enabled Indian refiners to then put the product on the global market at a "very competitive and profitable price".

Pyatt, during his February 16-17, visit to New Delhi, said India is a critical partner for the US on everything around energy transition and both sides are looking at an array of options to significantly expand the collaboration including in areas of green hydrogen and civil nuclear energy.

"Our experts assess that India now is enjoying the discount of about USD 15 a barrel in the price that it is paying for its imports of Russian crude. So India, by acting in its own interest, by driving a hard bargain to get the lowest price possible, is furthering the policy of our G7 coalition, our G7 plus partners in seeking to reduce Russian revenues," Pyatt said.

"I think that is how we look at this. We have a very good dialogue with the government of India on these issues," he said.

"But I think what is very important for everybody to understand is that this is not a temporary state of affairs. There is going to be no return to business as usual with Russia as long as Vladimir Putin continues to choose this course of aggression," Pyatt said.

India, the world's third-largest crude importer after China and the US, has been snapping discounted Russian oil after Western countries shunned it as a means of punishing Moscow for the war on Ukraine.

Also, the G7 (US, UK, Germany, France, Italy, Japan, Canada) imposed a cap on the oil price that came into effect in December and stopped countries from paying more than USD 60 a barrel to Russia for oil procurement with an aim to stop Moscow profiting from its oil exports. PTI

MP's firearms surrender move in Kuno to curb poaching of cheetahs

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

TO curb illegal hunting and poaching in the Kuno-Palpur National Park (KPK) region of Seoni district, Madhya Pradesh government is going to launch a campaign to urge people to surrender their firearms.

Cheetahs reintroduction flagship project is going on in the KNP. Unconfirmed reports from different sources say that around two weeks back, there were a couple of poaching incidents noticed which alarmed the local forest administration and conservators and scientists who engaged in day-to-day Cheetah reintroduction project. It forced the government to take such historic steps to save Cheetahs.

"The MP state government is planning to start a movement soon to urge villagers and tribal people to surrender weapons and firearms," said S P Yadav, Additional Director General (Project Tiger) and member secretary, National Tiger Conservation Authority, to The New Indian Express. He also looks after the flagship Cheetah reintroduction project.

"Some reports came to our notice that tribal people entered the forest in Kuno to hunt wild boars and other animals", said Yadav. Project Cheetah has not received any separate budget in current year. The government has pooled in from other programmes and schemes.

On February 16, Union Minister of Environment, Forest and Climate change, Bhupender Yadav told about the translocation of 12 Cheetahs (7 males, 5 females) from South Africa's Phinda and Rooiberg wildlife reserves to Kuno National Park in India's Madhya Pradesh on February 18. The cheetahs are aged between four months and 4 years.

Hosp admissions up among kids below 5 years

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

MORE children below five years were admitted to hospitals in India during the third Covid wave as compared to the first and second wave due to the reopening of schools, said the latest ICMR study.

Most children who died were infants, said the study, which analysed the National Clinical Registry for COVID-19, a platform which collects real-time Covid data, set up by the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) in collaboration with the Union Health Ministry, AIIMS, and the ICMR-National Institute of Medical Statistics.

The study, which studied the impact of Covid in the three waves on the children, confirmed that Covid-19 was milder in children than adults, and the pattern was consistent across all three waves.

The other reason children were hospitalised more during the third wave, which was termed milder as compared to the first and second wave, was the unvaccinated status of the below 18 years population, said the study, published in the Indian Journal of Pediatrics.

The study said of the 1,244 enrolled hospitalised Covid-19 patients aged between 0–18 years, 98 and 124 were infants and neonates, respectively. Of 1,244 Covid-positive children, 67 (or 6.2%) died during hospital stay, and the reason mainly was altered sensorium (unconscious); WHO ordinal scale ≥4 at admission (severe case in need of hospitalisation with oxygen support) and malignancy (cancer).

The proportion of deaths was highest in the age group of one month to 1 year (12.5%), followed by neonates (7.2%), five to nine years (6.4%), 10–18 years (5.7%), and then one to four years of children (2.4%).

"Mortality rates were similar across the three waves of the pandemic, though a significant shift towards the under-five group was observed in the third wave," said the study, which was held to evaluate the factors associated with mortality of a multi-centric cohort of hospitalised Covid-19 children from 42 hospitals across India.

Only 68.6% of children were symptomatic at admission, with fever being the most common symptom – similar to symptoms in adults.

Diarrhoea, rash, and neurological symptoms were also noted. Gastrointestinal symptoms were seen among children between 1 and five years of age. Most children stayed in the hospital for four to six days. Of the 1244 admitted children, 260 (21%) had at least one comorbidity.

The most common co-morbidity among children over one year old was hematologic disorders and malignancy, while cardiac disease was more common among infants. Neonates did not report any comorbidity.

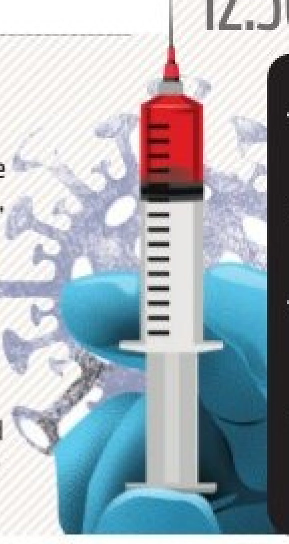
In the three waves, children admitted with co-morbidities and mortality were not significantly different. Still, during the third wave, a change was seen among those under five.

The study also said that oxygen supplementation was required by 23.8% of patients, while non-invasive and mechanical ventilation were required by 4.1% and 6.3%, respectively.

Covid third wave impact

Mortality rate among children (below 18 years of age) were similar across three waves of Covid pandemic, though a significant shift towards the under-five group was observed in the third wave," said the study

- More children were hospitalised during the third wave owing to the unvaccinated status of the below 18 years population, said the study.
- Another major cause was the reopening of schools during the third wave.
- The third wave was termed milder as compared to the first and second wave



The proportion of deaths was highest in the age group of one month to 1 year

12.50%

This is followed by neonates (7.2%), five to nine years (6.4%), 10–18 years (5.7%), and then one to four years of children (2.%).

NREGA victim of govt's repressive policies: Rahul

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

FLAYING the Centre for its new order of making Aadhaar-based payments mandatory for MGNREGA wages, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said the revolutionary policy that has supported a large number of families is becoming a victim of Centre's repressive policies.

"NREGA is the cornerstone of India's rural economy and a revolutionary policy that has supported countless families. The NREGAscheme, which is running the homes of crores of families, is becoming a victim of the repressive policies of the Centre," Rahul said in a post.

Terming the Aadhaar-based payments an attack on the income of the poor, he said the UPA government had a vision for Aadhaar card to provide convenience, identity and economic security to the people.

The UPA government implemented the NREGA scheme in 2006. "First cutting the budget of MGNREGA, and now linking the salary with Aadhaar – both these are attacks on the income of the poor," Rahul said. In a recent order, the ministry of rural development made it mandatory that all payments to the beneficiaries of the rural job scheme would be made through Aadhaar-Based Payment System from Feb 1 onwards. From January 1, the NMMS digital-attendance app was made compulsory.

"The present government is not only misusing this thinking but also using it against the poor section. Neither was Aadhaar properly communicated, nor was proper security arranged," Rahul said.

He pointed out that 57% of rural labourers will lose their daily wages if Aadhaar is made mandatory for NREGA wages. "They do not have any policy to provide new employment. It has become the intention of this government only to take away the employment of the people and to create difficulties for the poor to get their rightful money," he said.

Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge also said the Modi government is trying to axe the NREGA scheme. "The government has slashed the budget allocation by 33%, while the minister said that it's not a job scheme. They are asking states to give 40% of the money. However it's the Centre's responsibility to give funds," he said.

Avoid unwarranted comments on religious issues: Nadda to MPs

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

Only authorised spokespersons of party – after consultation with the organisation's senior think-tank – would given statements on religious themes like 'Hindutva' or 'Hindu rashtra'

J P Nadda, national president, BJP

Ahead of the 2024 general elections, the BJP seems to have started treading cautiously on religious issues.

BJP national president J P Nadda has directed party MPs to avoid making any statement on religious issues which could snowball into major controversies. Nadda's direction came after party leaders had been mired in disputes over religious issues, the latest one related to the BJP-Congress contest over a religious seer.

In a virtual meeting, Nadda communicated that only authorised spokespersons of party – after consultation with the organisation's senior think-tank – would given statements on religious themes like 'Hindutva' or 'Hindu rashtra'.

Sources in the BJP said that Nadda had asked party MPs that those faithful to any centre of religion – in this case the Bageshwar Dham – should avoid making comment on religious issues or belief. "Any such comment on issues related to religion could either land the party in an spot or may snowball into a bigger controversy," Nadda reportedly instructed the MPs during online meeting.

Sharing strategies, in view of the elections in 2024, Nadda said that all party MPs must bring the government's performance sheet to the common people in their respective constituencies.

Nadda also instructed party MPs to take the President's address, at the joint sitting of both houses of the Parliament, to the common people. President Draupadi Murmu's inaugural address at the Budget session highlighted the Centre's policies and plans for the upcoming year.

Additionally, he asked the MPs to complete organising the of the 'MP Khel Spardha' (MP sports competition) as per Prime Minister Narendra Modi's suggestion.

Nadda's instruction on religious issues also followed party MP Manoj Tiwary's visit to a religious event held at the Bageshwar Dham where he had reportedly sung a Bhojpuri song and had reportedly spoken on 'Hindutva' and 'Hindu rashtra'.

I-T ACCUSES BBC OF TAX EVASION, FLOUTING RULES

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

A day after it concluded the three-day-long survey operation at BBC offices in India, the income tax department said the British media outlet appears to have suppressed income and profits. The survey revealed tax has not been paid on certain remittances, which were not disclosed as income in India by the foreign entities of the group, it added.

"Despite substantial consumption of content in various Indian languages (apart from English), the income and profits shown by various group entities are not commensurate with the scale of operations in India," said Surabhi Ahluwalia, commissioner of income tax, media and technical policy.

She said the survey also threw up "several discrepancies and inconsistencies" with regard to transfer pricing. "Such discrepancies relate to level of relevant 'function, asset and risk' (FAR) analysis, incorrect use of comparables, which are applicable to determine the correct arms-length-price and inadequate revenue apportionment," she added.

The services of seconded employees have been utilised for which reimbursement has been made by the Indian entity to the foreign entity concerned. "Such remittance was also liable to be subject to withholding tax which has not been done," the official explained.

WHAT IS TRANSFER PRICING?

It is an accounting practice that represents the price one division of a company charges another for the goods or services rendered. Multinational companies use it to save tax by charging a higher price to divisions in high-tax countries (reducing profit) while charging a lower price for divisions in low-tax countries (increasing profit). To check misuse, Indian laws insist that the amount a company charges its divisions and an unrelated party must be the same (arm's-length price). Transfer pricing rules apply to domestic and cross-border transactions

Adjust excess fee levied during Covid: Yogi to pvt schools

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Yogi Adityanath government on Friday released a government order (GO) directing all the private schools in the state to adjust 15 per cent excess fees which they had charged during the Covid pandemic period (2020-21) in the current academic session in compliance with the order of Allahabad High Court.

The GO states that the amount should be returned to those students, who had left the schools. Special Secretary, Rupesh Kumar said that if any student/guardian/parent-teacher association was aggrieved by non-compliance of the above instructions, they should approach the District Fee Regulatory Committee with a complaint under Section 8 of the Uttar Pradesh Self-Financed Independent Schools (Fee Regulation) Act, 2018. "The committee will take appropriate decision on their complaint," said the officer.

Kumar said the order dated April 27, 2020, has asked all schools of all boards operating in the state not to increase the fee, "But if the schools charged 15 per cent of the calculated amount of the excess fee in the academic session 2020-21, it should now be adjusted." Significantly, the Allahabad HC, on January 6, 2023, had directed all schools in the state to provide a 15 per cent rebate to the students on the total fees charged during the Covid in 2020-21 and adjust it in the next session. Anil Agarwal, president of the Unaided Private Schools Association of UP said, "If there are complaints by parents against any school violating it,it should be questioned."

Shah slams Meghalaya ally over graft

Says probe will be initiated as state govt has eaten up huge funds given by the Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Shillong

Amit Shah at a public rally ahead of Meghalaya Assembly elections at Dalu in West Garo Hills district on Friday. Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma is also seen | PTI

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday announced that the BJP would probe the various charges of corruption against the Conrad Sangma government if voted to power in the state. Addressing a rally at Dalu in West Garo Hills district in Meghalaya, he accused the National People's Party (NPP) government of large-scale corruption.

"The Centre allocated huge funds to Meghalaya but the money was eaten up by the state government. Should there not be a probe? The BJP has committed in its election manifesto that as soon as it forms the government, it will get the charges of corruption investigated under the chairmanship of a Supreme Court judge. The corrupt will be sent to jail," Shah said addressing a rally at Rangsakona in the Garo Hills region.

He alleged the Narendra Modi government had provided ₹24,000 crore for the supply of water to all households in Meghalaya but the amount was siphoned off. Money meant for the construction of roads to connect villages has been also eaten up, the home minister further alleged. He promised that the BJP would connect all villages with roads and provide jobs to the unemployed, water to all households and non-stop power service if voted to power. Drawing a comparison, he said Assam was placed second from bottom among the states on the development index but the BJP government took it to the road of development.

"It has been just eight years that the BJP captured power in Assam. Himanta Biswa Sarma is the chief minister there. When you visit the state, you will know what development means. Modi ji sent funds not only to Assam but also to Meghalaya. Sangma ji has closed the road through which the funds were supposed to reach you," Shah told the crowd.

He said according to the Reserve Bank of India, Meghalaya has the lowest growth rate among the states in the country. He claimed that the previous Mukul Sangma government and the present Conrad Sangma government did nothing for the welfare of the poor. Shah urged people to vote for the BJP, promising that it would work for the poor.

Twelve Congress MLAs, led by Mukul Sangma, had defected to Trinamool Congress (TMC) in November 2021, thereby dramatically making it the state's principal opposition. Shah targeted Mukul Sangma for joining the TMC.

"Mukul Sangma should first take note of the condition of Bengal's poor. It is worse than that of Meghalaya. If you vote for the TMC, you will not benefit. The TMC will import the culture of cut money, corruption and hooliganism to Meghalaya," Shah cautioned the voters.

The BJP is an ally of Conrad Sangma's NPP and a constituent of the NPP-led six-party government. However, they all are going it alone in the polls.

Cow vigilantism? Tension in Raj village over killing of 2 Muslims in Haryana

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE police detained one person on Friday over the killing of two Muslim youths of Bharatpur district in Rajasthan allegedly by Bajrang Dal workers in Haryana on suspicion of cow slaughter. Tension prevailed throughout the day in Ghatmika village of Pahari tehsil in the district, and the bodies of Nasir (25) and Junaid (35) were finally buried in the evening.

On Thursday, two bodies were found in a burnt SUV near Barwas village of Loharu in Bhiwani, Haryana. The victims' relatives have alleged that some people linked with Bajrang Dal abducted the duo and killed them. They have filed an FIR against Multhan, Shrikant, Rinku Saini, Lokesh Singla and the alleged kingpin, Monu Manesar. Monu, who has emerged as a cow vigilante in the last few years, is on the run. As per the police, five cases are registered against Junaid, most of them being related to cow smuggling.

Monu released a video saying nobody from Bajrang Dal is involved in the killings, and sough a CBI inquiry into the matter. BJP spokesperson Ramlal Sharma said, "Whether the accused have links with Bajrang Dal or are cow protectors is a matter of investigation. It is not fair to defame any organisation."

After the incident came to light, the irate local residents refused to bury the bodies for 15 hours. Minister of state Zahida Khan reached the village on Friday morning, following which a consensus was reached. Ex gratia of ₹15 lakh from the state government, ₹five lakh from Khan and ₹50,000 from Sajid Khan, head of Pahari Panchayat Samiti, was announced for the kin of each victim, along with jobs to the dependents and aid of ₹10 lakh each under the Chiranjeevi scheme.

Bommai woos farmers with subsidies

K'TAKA BUDGET 2023-24 DECODED

STATE government is anticipating Rs 35,000 crore from Excise, which is Rs 6000 crore more than previous year, and Rs 10500 crore in the Transport department which is Rs 2500 crore than previous year target. Bommai said this year revenue target for the Commercial Tax department is Rs 92,000 crore (excluding GST compensation).

The CM wooed farmers by announcing financial subsidies and increasing the limit of interest-free loans from existing Rs 3 lakh to Rs 5 lakh. He provided a sum of Rs 46,278 crore in the budget for women empowerment and welfare, including free bus passes for women working in organised sector, and skill development training for over one lakh women. For the youth, Bommai wooed them with welfare schemes in education and employment sector.

Bommai's budget stressed on agriculture, irrigation and allied activities expected to help farmers to have stable incomes. He allocated Rs 39,031 crore for agriculture, irrigation and allied activities, which is Rs 4,000 crore more than previous year.

He said the budget proposed an additional subsidy of Rs 10,000 under the new scheme 'Bhoo Siri' for Kisan Credit card holders. "This would facilitate farmers to purchase seeds, fertilizer, pesticides and other farm inputs. The State will contribute Rs 2,500, while National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) would contribute the remaining Rs 7,500. This is expected to help over 50 lakh farmers," he said. On the budget proposal to increase the limit of interest-free short-term loans given to farmers from the existing Rs 3 lakh to Rs 5 lakh, he said this year a sum of Rs 25,000 crore will be given to more than 30 lakh farmers.

Bommai's budget stressed on 'Gruhini Shakthi Yojane', wherein women from various sectors will be given financial and other assistance.

Under Shrama Shakthi, Rs 500 per month will be given to landless women farm labourers, training to one lakh women to start profitable home-based factories, and Rs 1,000 crore proposed for free bus passes to all women working in the organised sector, he said.

Rs 46,278 crore has been proposed for women empowerment and Rs 47,256 crore for child welfare along with Rs 80,318 crore for welfare and inclusive growth sector.

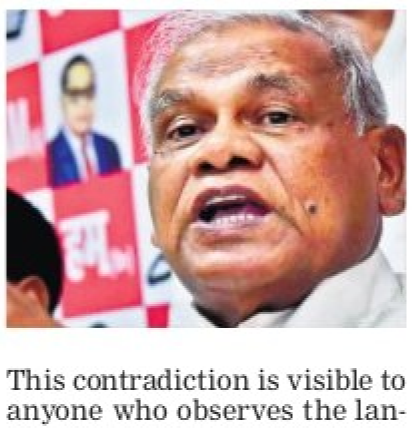
The budget, for the first time, provides Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribes youth with financial assistance of Rs 50,000 for purchase of electric operated three-wheeler goods vehicle under Babu Jagajeevanram Self Employment Scheme, and a subsidy of 50 % up to Rs 2 lakh will be provided for 100 beneficiaries in every assembly constituency. Rs 400 crore has been proposed for this.

For youth who have remained unemployed after school education, the budget, under a new scheme "'Badukuva Daari", proposed a monthly stipend of Rs 1,500 will be provided to obtain Job Oriented Certificate Training of 3 months duration in ITIs. A monthly Apprentice allowance of Rs.1,500 will be provided for three months to those completing the training. Besides, youth who have remained unemployed three years after completing graduation, one time financial assistance of Rs 2,000 per person will be provided under a new scheme, 'Yuvasnehi'.

He also announced constructing Mega Rama Mandira at Ramadevara Betta in Ramanagara along with announcing Rs 1000 crore for renovation of temples and mutts over next two years.

Rift in Bihar grand alliance widens as HAM chief pushes to make his son CM

RAMASHANKAR @Patna



FORMER Bihar CM and Hindustani Awam Morcha (HAM) chief Jitan Ram Manjhi dropped a bombshell on Friday by demanding that his son, Santosh Suman, a minister, should be elevated to the post of CM and even indirectly called his son more qualified than Bihar deputy chief minister and RJD leader Tejashwi Prasad Yadav to hold the top post. Manjhi contended that his son is young and also more educated than those whose name was doing rounds for the CM post.

"Santosh is NET qualified and also a professor who can teach these CM candidates," Manjhi remarked. The former CM said his son had more qualifications to become CM except the fact that he belongs to the 'Bhuiyan' community and is a Dalit. On the other hand, BJP OBC Morcha's national general secretary and state party spokesperson Dr Nikhil Anand said, "RJD and JDU are facing major contradictions as Tejashwi is overshadowing Nitish. The leaders of JDU and RJD were indirectly and at times directly taking on each other, even making public statements. This contradiction is visible to anyone who observes the language as well as the body language of Nitish and Tejashwi even when they are together."

Meanwhile on the cabinet expansion and Congress' share, Tejashwi Prasad Yadav asserted that Congress would be given only one ministerial berth in the cabinet expansion, rejecting the latter's demand of two berths. Tejashwi told the media persons, "It was decided in advance that there will be one minister from Congress quota in future cabinet expansion." Tejashwi made the statement about inducting a single minister from the Congress cabinet in the presence of CM.

His remark has left Congress crestfallen as the state party president Akhilesh Prasasd Singh had claimed that CM Nitish Kumar had assured him of inducting two ministers into the cabinet from the Congress quota. Some senior Congress leaders, including the party legislative party leader Ajit Sharma, had not found a place in the state cabinet before.

Nitish also hinted at an early cabinet expansion by saying everything would be sorted out as it was not a major issue. "There are not many vacant posts of ministers in his cabinet," he added. He said that it was perhaps for the first time that there were so many ministers in the state cabinet.

In the Bihar cabinet, there can be a maximum 36 ministers and presently there are 33 ministers. Earlier, Tejashwi had claimed that there would not be any cabinet expansion creating a flutter in the political circle.

Row over ailing Maha BJP MP campaiging

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE BJP has come under the fire for forcing its ailing and bedridden Lok Sabha MP Girish Bapat to campaign for the Kasaba Peth by-election. Oppositions said that BJP is an inhuman party and to win the elections, they can go to any extent.

"Recently, I visited Girish Bapat's residence and he was not well. And now, he was asked to campaign for the BJP. How it is good to ask a bed ridden person to campaign in by-elections that I cannot say," said NCP chief Sharad Pawar. Girish Bapat is the senior most BJP leader from Pune and a several time MLA from Kasabha Peth before Mukta Tilak electing in 2019 state assembly.

On last Thursday, Bapat was seen addressing the media with the help of an oxygen cylinder. Earlier, he refused to campaign citing his ill health as reason, but after his meeting with Deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis, Bapat was seen the next day for byelections campaign. On Friday, he was again admitted into the hospital due to deterioration of his health.

U'khand: Woman dies by suicide after husband insists on raising street dog

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

A 21-year-old woman ended her life in Bajpur area on Friday after an argument with her husband over bringing a stray dog home. Identified as Urmila, the woman's husband Suraj Saini, a resident of Balli under police outpost Bannakheda, had brought a helpless dog puppy home on Wednesday. Urmila was not in the favour of keeping the dog and hence there were several arguments between the couple.

On Friday, she hung herself from the fan in her room after Suraj refused to let go of the puppy. The deceased's brother Dinesh has lodged a police complaint against five people from the in-laws' side, including her husband, alleging murder for dowry.

According to Dinesh, his sister Urmila had married Suraj about one-and-a-half years ago, and their parents had given Suraj ₹20,000 cash along with gifts. It is alleged that since the marriage, the in-laws had started harassing Urmila for demanding a Bullet bike for dowry.

When contacted by this newspaper, Bajpur police station SHO Praveen Singh Koshyari told this reporter, "The dog dispute can be an angle but the police is also investigating the dowry murder case. Police have detained some people and are investigating in every way."

SSI Vikram Singh Dhami informed that the body has been sent to Kashipur for post-mortem.

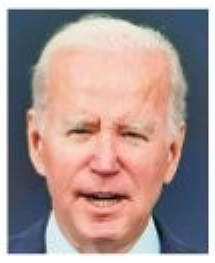
Xi rejects Biden's push for talks to deflate balloon crisis

WASHINGTON

CHINESE President Xi Jingping on Friday rejected US President Joe Biden request for talks in the wake of the US Air Force shooting down what Washington says was a high-tech Chinese spy balloon earlier this month. "I expect to be speaking with President Xi and... we're going to get to the bottom of this," Biden said in his most extensive public remarks since the incident on February 4.



While stressing that the United States is "not looking for a new Cold War," Biden said he made "no apologies for taking down that balloon."

"We'll always act to protect the interests and the security of the American people," Biden said. However, China sharply reacted to Biden's remarks defending his orders to shoot down a Chinese spy balloon and his assertion to "remain in communication" with his Xi Jinping, saying Washington cannot ask for talks while fuelling tensions and escalating the crisis. Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin said he has no information on the likelihood of Biden-Xi talks as of now. The United States has been in a state of alarm since a huge white balloon from China was spotted tracking over a series of top-secret nuclear weapons sites before being shot down just off the east coast. In the wake of the incident, the US military adjusted radar settings to detect smaller objects and promptly discovered three more unidentified craft that Biden ordered shot down—one over Alaska, another over Canada and the third over Lake Huron off Michigan.

China says the balloon was just a stray weather research craft, but US officials say they have conclusive evidence that the balloon was sent to spy.

The incident has prompted a diplomatic rift, with Secretary of State Antony Blinken abruptly canceling a rare visit to China. Beijing accused Washington of overreacting and claimed that US balloons had overflown Chinese territory, something the Biden administration denies. Biden drew a clear distinction between the Chinese balloon and the three smaller objects shot down later. "We don't yet know exactly what these three objects were," Biden said.

Biden has made a priority of resetting US relations with China, which he describes as Washington's biggest competitor. But tensions flared last year after Nancy Pelosi, visited Taiwan—the self-governing democracy claimed by Beijing. Since Pelosi's visit, Biden and Xi have said they want to establish "guard rails" to prevent their competition from turning into conflict. Agencies

Resolution in US Senate on Arunachal as part of India

WASHINGTON

A bipartisan resolution was introduced in the US Senate on Thursday to recognise Arunachal Pradesh as an integral part of India, pushing back against Beijing's military aggression to change the status quo along Line of Actual Control.

The resolution condemns additional Chinese provocations, including China's use of military force to change the status quo along the Line of Actual Control, construction of villages in contested areas, publication of maps with Mandarin-language names for cities and features in the Indian state of Arunachal Pradesh and expansion of Beijing's territorial claims in Bhutan.

The resolution says that China claims Arunachal Pradesh as its own territory, which it calls ''South Tibet'' and has invoked these claims as part of its increasingly aggressive and expansionist policies.

"The United States recognises the state of Arunachal Pradesh not as a disputed territory but as an integral part of the Republic of India and this recognition is not qualified in any way," says the bipartisan resolution introduced by Senator Jeff Merkley, a Democrat and Bill Hagerty, a Republican. Pushing back against Chinese claims that Arunachal Pradesh is its territory, the Senate resolution reaffirms that the US recognises the McMahon Line as the international boundary between China and Arunachal Pradesh.

"This resolution makes clear that the US views...Arunachal Pradesh as part of the Republic of India, not the People's Republic of China and commits the US to deepen support...to the region, alongside like-minded international partners and donors," Merkley said.

The resolution commends India for taking steps to defend itself against security threats from China. These efforts include securing India's telecommunications infrastructure; examining its procurement processes; implementing investment screening standards; and expanding its cooperation with Taiwan. PTI

Less women in jobs due to lack of childcare facilities

Indonesia's Industry Minister Agus Gumiwang Kartasasmita said that the lack of childcare facilities is the reason behind low labour force participation rate of women in the nation. "There are several challenges in increasing women's labour force participation rate, such as the lack of choices for childcare services that are available at workplaces and in residential areas," the minister said. He also noted that the childcare services come at a high cost that are unaffordable to the middle-income familes. The issue has caused several women to leave their jobs after they have kids. "This often causes women to decide to leave the world of work, especially those, who have small children," the minister pointed out.

Government firm on putting curb on online sale of medicines

Centre is of the view online sale of drugs without doctor's prescription or even otherwise pose several threats to public health including drug abuse

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government is determined to put a complete ban on the online sale of drugs and medicines, a top official told this newspaper after a high-level meeting was called on Thursday by Health Minister Mansukh Manadaviya in this regard.

The meeting was called after online platforms failed to give satisfactory response on show cause notices issued to them early this month. Health ministry had issued show cause notices to more than a dozen of companies including biggies like Amazon, Flipkart, Practo, Tata1mg, PharmEasy, Apollo, Zeelabs and Healthcart, etc, for selling drugs online without necessary licences.

"Over-the-counter sale of drugs is not allowed in the country. Many instances of drug abuse, especially among youth have surfaced lately. The government is determined to put an outright ban on sale of drugs online as the these data are misused by pharma companies to increase sales. Also, there can be severe ill-effects of online sale of drugs," a top government official said.

GOVT ISSUES SHOW CAUSE NOTICES TO OVER DOZEN FIRMS

Health ministry had issued show cause notices to more than a dozen of companies including biggies like Amazon, Flipkart, Practo, Tata1mg, PharmEasy, Apollo, Zeelabs and Healthcart etc for selling drugs online without necessary licences

The Centre is of the view the online sale of drugs without doctor's prescription or even otherwise pose several threats to the public health including drug abuse, especially among youth.

It's a great risk to national security as well as the online data can be misused for criminal activities by promoting addictive medicines.

The government has been receiving various representations raising concerns regarding sale of drugs via online platforms in contravention to the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940 & rules there under. Some drugs are also being sold online which are only allowed for sale by retail under a valid prescription of a registered medical practitioner and supplied under the supervision of a pharmacist, according to another high level official.

The Delhi High Court in 2018 had ordered a ban of online sale of drugs across the country. There are cases in various courts in this regard requesting to prohibit the online sale of drugs, the official added.

"Various reports and surveys claim India has the second-largest population of internet users. This number is continuously expanding. Not just adults, children too use the internet, and this may cause severe health hazards in case we don't put a ban on online sales," the official cited above said.

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

GOOGLE has fired over 450 employees across various departments in India. Though the tech giant did not respond to a query on the exact number of layoffs in India, sources said at least 450 employees would have been impacted.

On Thursday night both India and Singapore employees who were impacted received termination letters from Google. Many Indian staff who were impacted shared their stories on social media. Sagar Gilhotra, partner development manager, Google in a LinkedIn post said at 8.34 pm his life turned upside down with laid off news.

"I worked round the clock to support my team and helped to scale YouTube live shopping in India...Despite my contributions, it's heartbreaking to see talented people being let go," he said. Another Google employee said he came to know many of his Google friends in India from various units are impacted by the current layoff process. Clifford Teo, Southeast Asia Lead, Talent Engagement & Lead, Singapore, shared in a post his role has been made redundant and he has been impacted along with members of the core team. "It definitely comes as a surprise as I just came off a promotion a few months back and was having the best time leading the Southeast Asia Talent Engagement team," he said. On January 20, Google and Alphabet CEO Sundar Pichai said it will fire 12,000 employees globally. Outside the US, the firm said it will support employees in line with local practices.

She plans to support Neal and help with the transition, which will include continuing to work with some YouTube teams, coaching team members and meeting with creators.

India's forex reserves fall $8 billion to $566 billion

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

INDIA'S foreign exchange reserves declined by $8.32 billion to $ 566.95 billion for the week ended February 10, showed the data released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday.

The fall of around 8.3% in the forex reserves is the biggest drop in 11 months. This is the second consecutive week of drop in the reserves after the $1.49-billion decrease in the previous reporting week.

The fall in forex reserves coincides with weakness in the Indian currency. The rupee depreciated 14 paise to close at 82.84 against the US currency on Friday as the strength of the American currency in the overseas market and a muted trend in domestic equities weighed on investor sentiments.

The foreign currency assets, a major component of the reserves, decreased by $7.108 billion to $500.58 billion for the week ended February 10, according to the Weekly Statistical Supplement released by the RBI on Friday.

Expressed in dollar terms, the foreign currency assets include the effect of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units like the euro, pound and yen held in the foreign exchange reserves.

Gold reserves decreased for the second week running and were $919 million down to $42.86 billion, the RBI said.

The Abu Dhabi National Oil Company's gas processing firm on Friday said it plans to sell 4% of its shares to local investors in the latest initial public offering to be made by a state-run energy company in the Middle East. The UAE, which is home to Abu Dhabi and Dubai, selected Sultan al-Jaber, the CEO of ADNOC, who also oversees renewable energey projects, to chair the COP28, angering climate change activists. ADNOC has access to 95% of the UAE's natural gas reserves, the world's seventh largest. It supplies gas to more than 60% of the local market and exports to more than 20 countries. The company had a net income of $4.2 billion in the first 10 months of 2022, up from $3.6 billion in all of 2021. It plans to list over 3 billion shares on the Abu Dhabi stock exchange for purchase by local investors starting Feb. 23.

'ECONOMIC REVIVAL 'COMPLICATED' DUE TO COMPETITION'

Efforts to revive China's economy have become "complicated" with growing global competition to attract investment, President Xi Jinping has said, calling for steps to forestall and defuse major economic and financial risks, including those arising from the property sector and the piling local government debt. In an article published in the official media on the subject "State of the Country's Economy", Xi said that more efforts should be made to attract and utilise foreign investment. In a tacit admission of the disquieting state of the world's second-largest economy which last year shrank to three per cent registering its second lowest growth rate in 50 years, Xi said that economic work in 2023 is complicated and the efforts to revive it should focus on the major problems and start with improving public expectations and boosting confidence in development. In the article that is originally in the Chinese language and published in an official magazine, Xi, also the general secretary of the ruling Communist Party of China, noted that international competition for attracting investment is becoming more intense.

Minda Corp. acquires 15.70% stake in rival Pricol for ₹400 crore

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

AUTOMOTIVE components maker Minda Corporation, on Friday, acquired 15.70% stake in its rival Pricol, an auto parts maker, for ₹400 crore in open market transaction. The acquisition of minority stake is being seen as a hostile takeover attempt in the auto ancillary sector, but Minda has termed it as a financial transaction.

The company acquired 1.91 crore shares of Coimbatore-headquartered company at a price of ₹208.98 per share. After the news of buying stake came, the management of Pricol swiftly clarified they don't have any intention to dilute their stake.

"The promoters have absolutely no intention of undertaking any secondary sale of promoter stake nor does the company have any intent to raising equity capital of any form as the company has strong financial fundamentals and healthy cash profits that will meet the needs of capital for its future growth," Vikram Mohan, managing director of Pricol said in a statement. "Promoters and management stand committed to its stakeholders and are bullish about the growth prospects of the organisation combined with a firm financial footing," he added.

The promoter group owns 36.53% of Pricol while the public holds 63.47%, according to the information available with the stock exchange.

Minda released the statement clarifying the deal is merely a financial investment. "This is merely a financial investment without providing the Company any special rights in Pricol Limited other than the rights as a shareholder of Pricol Limited," Minda said in a regulatory filing to the NSE. "This is an open-market transaction and no prior approvals have been obtained," it added

However, analysts are not convinced with these statements and say a hostile takeover cann't be ruled out. "Why would a company invest ₹400 crore just to get a minority stake in a rival company. There is a synergy between the two companies as they operate in the same sector and Pricol is a strategic fit for Minda," an auto analyst with a Mumbai-based brokerage house told this newspaper.

Shares of Pricol closed 4.7% lower at ₹198.60 apiece on the NSE on Friday, while Minda Corporation shares closed 4% lower at Rs 204. Pricol rallied to hit a 52-week high in the morning trade, but erased gains after its Managing Director Vikram Mohan denied the stake sale news.

GST tribunal, taxation on tobacco, pan masala top of Council's agenda

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE GST Council in its meeting on Saturday (February 18) will discuss the matter of setting up of tribunals across the country for faster resolution of cases.

"Several GST related cases are stuck in high courts in the absence of Goods and Service Tax Appellate Tribunal (GSTATs). Finance ministry has been pushing for the faster decision on GSTATs formation in the GST Council's next meeting. We need them at the earliest," a top official told this newspaper.

According to him, it has been more than five years since the GST regime was implemented in 2015 and several cases are pending in the litigation.

However, the official declined to reveal the number of such cases stuck with the top courts.

Meanwhile, taxation for tobacco and gutkha businesses and the tax treatment of online gaming, horse racing and casinos will also be on the Council's agenda list. In the previous meeting, Group of Ministers' reports on these issues were put on hold until the next Council meeting.

In addition, the GST law committee has recommended the Council to extend the time limit for adjudicating cases where GST has been not paid, short-paid or input tax wrongly availed for the year 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20.

According to the sources, for FY18, the time limit under section 73(10) may be extended from the present September 30, 2023, to December 31, 2023. For FY19, the time limit may be extended from the present December 31, 2023, to March 31, 2024. Also, for FY 20, the time limit may be extended from the present March 31, 2024, to June 30, 2024.

The Council will also discuss the request by the National Tiger Conservation Authority for ad-hoc exemption for import of cheetahs.

Trai to make service quality standards more stringent for telcos

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AFTER reporting several complaints of call drops and poor network, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) is going to make the service quality standards more stringent for telecom operators.

The regulatory body is soon to ask telcos to report call drop and service quality data at state level, and then district level to know the region facing such problem. Currently, telcos' present data are based on LSA (licensed service area)-wise and averaged quarterly. Since, LSA is a large area, covering many states, it makes it difficult to pin-point problems, and patchy networks in smaller states.

"Currently, we are getting reports from the LSA point of view. Thus, we are not able to know what is happening at the state level and district level. So, in our first phase we have decided we will go for state level and district. For district level, we monitor far-flung areas and hilly areas," said P D Vaghela, Chairman of TRAI.

As per the rule, at least 97% BTS (base transceiver station) should be in working condition in a given area or LSA to avoid penalties. In case the telcos don't fulfil these criteria, they are liable for penalties, which starts from ₹50,000 per parameter, and goes up to several lakhs. "Most of the TSPs are meeting that criteria as it is a large area," added Vaghela.

TRAI on Friday held a meeting with major telecom service providers (TSPs), and directed TSPs to take urgent steps to demonstrate improvement in quality of service and experience by consumers. Telcos were asked to analyse the issue of call muting and one way speech and take corrective action on priority. "While rolling out the 5G network, TSPs should ensure there is least disturbance or degradation of QoS of existing telecom services," said Vaghela.

'Budget focus on capex to boost pvt investment'

UNION Budget's emphasis on capital expenditure is expected to encourage private investment, strengthen job creation and raise the country's potential growth, the Reserve Bank of India said in its monthly bulletin released on Friday.

"The Union Budget 2023-24's emphasis on capital expenditure is expected to crowd-in private investment, strengthen job creation and demand, and raise India's potential growth," said RBI in its monthly bulletin released on Friday.

Union Budget's focus on capital expenditure is expected push the GDP growth rate close to 7% in the next financial year. The economy is unlikely to witness any significant relief from inflation in 2023.

"Over the year ahead, the retreat of inflation is expected to be stubborn and beset by supply shocks. Almost every other component of the consumer price index- statistical and exclusion-based measures- is showing a hardening of price pressures," noted the monthly bulletin. In 2023-24, capital expenditure is budgeted at ₹10 lakh crore which will constitute 3.3 per cent of GDP.

"We believe that India will decouple from macroeconomic projections of current vintage and also from the rest of the world. In our view, the instrument of decoupling will be the Union Budget by raising India's growth prospects over the period 2023-27; and raising India's potential growth," said the bulletin.

Saudi reports add to Man Utd takeover intrigue

Saudi Arabia has joined the race to buy Manchester United ahead of Friday's bid deadline, according to a report in Britain's Daily Telegraph, raising the stakes in what could be the most lucrative deal in sports history. The American Glazer family, who completed their takeover in 2005, announced in November that they were open to a sale or investment.

Australia's Us-man of the hour

Southpaw, sent back home for failing to complete an assignment in 2013, stands tall with a proactive 81 on Day 1

R Ashwin (C) rejoices after dismissing Australia's Steve Smith during Day 1 of the 2nd Test in New Delhi on Friday | PTI

FIROZ MIRZA @New Delhi

FROM being punished for not completing his 'homework' to securing the highest score on the opening day of the second Test of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy, life seems to have come a full circle for Australian batter Usman Khawaja.

It was during Australia tour of India in 2013 that Khawaja and three of his teammates — Shane Watson, Mitchell Johnson and James Pattinson — were suspended for not completing the homework given by then coach Mickey Arthur. The homework-gate saga meant he missed out on a chance to don Australian whites 10 years ago.

The Pakistan-born Khawaja once again toured India four years later only to be dropped from the playing XI for the first Test in Pune to accommodate the Marsh brothers, Shaun and Mitchell. He eventually went back home without featuring in any of the three Tests that followed. Those missed chances must have crossed his mind when he was named in the Australian squad for the Border-Gavaskar Trophy. The fear of missing out once again must have grown manifold when a visa delay left him stranded Down Under.

But this time, the script turned out to be different. The 36-year-old not only found his way to the playing XI of both the Tests but also made the second match a memorable outing. With wickets falling at one end once opener David Warner was dismissed for 15 after Australia opted to bat at the Arun Jaitley Stadium on Friday, the southpaw scored 81 off 125 balls.

Khawaja played sweeps and reverse-sweeps to unsettle India's bowling line-up, especially against offie R Ashwin to resurrect the innings after the Aussies were reduced to 91/3. In the end, a well-timed reverse sweep off Ravindra Jadeja led to his downfall but it took KL Rahul to hold a blinder at cover point to do that. Peter Handscomb then made an unbeaten 72 and skipper Pat Cummins chipped in with a useful 33 as the visitors put 263 on the scoreboard.

Khawaja believes the total is good given the fact that Australia have played three spinners in the form of Nathan Lyon, Todd Murphy and Matt Kuhnemann. "I don't know a par score until India bats on it. I feel like 260 is pretty good but we are going to have to wait and see tomorrow (Saturday) what India get. They're very good in their own conditions. I think now we have three spinners in the team, especially on that wicket, it is going to be challenging, just like their spinners were very challenging."

Despite him playing Tests on Indian soil almost 10 years after first touring the country with the national team, Khawaja has enough experience of playing in the subcontinent. He has played a lot of red-ball cricket in Pakistan, Sri Lanka and UAE.

He also played multi-day matches in India while captaining Australia A on the 2015 tour of India. He had scored in bulks while playing nine ODIs here. The batter had also represented his country in the T20 World Cup India hosted in 2016. Besides, he had played for Pune franchise in the Indian Premier League as well.

Despite all those past laurels, the maiden Test fifty will always remain close to his heart, especially after the twin failures in the Nagpur Test where he could not reach double figures in both the innings.

"I didn't get a chance to play the first game. I only faced seven balls for the game. So there was no real difference in the plans. I just play by feel. I play what I think is right for the wicket when I go out. I don't go out there thinking I want to play a certain way. I just feel how the bowlers are trying to bowl to me and then I read the game from there. So, it's as simple as that. There's no difference. And that's pretty much what I did today," said Khawaja on his Test outings in the country so far.

Meanwhile, for the hosts, pacer Mohammed Shami was the pick of the bowlers claiming 4/60 in 14.4 overs. Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja bagged three wickets each while Mohammed Siraj and Axar Patel went wicketless.

India were 21 for no loss at stumps with skipper Rohit Sharma and KL Rahul unbeaten on 13 and 4 runs respectively.

HUGHES WEARING HAT OF TOUR GUIDE

FIROZ MIRZA @ New Delhi

Former Oz pacer Mervyn Hughes is a tour host for fans from his country | FIROZ MIRZA

IN an almost decade-long career for Australia, Mervyn Hughes carved out a name for himself. A crowd favourite, he became famous for his imposing run-up, classic delivery action and, of course, the handlebar moustache. Even though he didn't get the chance to play red-ball cricket in India, he left quite the impression. He made his debut against India at Adelaide in 1985 and went on to pick 23 wickets across six Tests (in all, he picked up 212 wickets at 28.38 in 53 Tests).

Hughes, 61, retains his charisma and remains a crowd favourite. On Friday, it was a treat to see him watching the action unfold at the Arun Jaitley Stadium in New Delhi. He is in national capital as a tour host for Australian fans, who are visiting the country to watch the ongoing Border-Gavaskar Trophy. The official website of Australian Sports Tours (AST), which arranges such tours for sports aficionados, says the present trip is Hughes' fourth in India.

"It's disappointing not to play a Test in India but that's how it is. I enjoyed playing at other parts of the world and now it's good to see them (Aussies) taking on India from stands," Hughes told this daily even as the visitors lost two quick wickets in the form of Marnus Labuschagne and Steven Smith in an over bowled by Ravichandran Ashwin only a few minutes before the lunch break.

Speaking on the match, he said: "It was going good till those two wickets fell in succession. We are hoping for a good contest. May this match go till the fifth day." He might have missed out on a chance to represent his country in the longest format of the game in the subcontinent but he featured in four ODIs staged in India under the MRF World Series (Nehru Cup) in 1989. He played against Sri Lanka, Pakistan and West Indies apart from the hosts during the tournament and claimed four wickets. "Yes, I remember playing ODIs in India sometime in the late 80s. It was a good experience." As many as six teams including England competed in the tournament with Pakistan beating West Indies by four wickets in the summit clash to emerge champions.

Hughes, who had also served as an Australian selector replacing former skipper Allan Border in 2005, started touring with fans way back in 2001 with an Ashes series. Ever since, he has been touring various countries hosting Australian teams. He usually watches a couple of matches before heading back for the country. This time, however, he is scheduled to return after the Delhi Test.

Yastika's 'let's give it all' attitude bearing fruit

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
GQEBERHA

INDIA'S Yastika Bhatia had just given a quote, which, if shared on social media, would have likely received replies and comments, saying 'hard relate'. "If you are told you have ten days to do your homework, you will feel lethargic and do it on the last day. But if you were told you only have one hour left, you will do everything you can to finish it in time," the 22-year-old said with a laugh. You don't need to know cricket to relate to that, if you are someone who works better on the clock with a deadline, you'd have had a giggle.

Here, however, she was talking about the time when she was left out of the Indian T20I side for the Asia Cup. She was watching a YouTube video of Him-eesh Madaan, a motivational speaker and trainer from Noida. "I watch a lot of videos of him. I just watched one of his videos and in that, he said '2023 is just 50 days away.' And that is when it hit me," the southpaw had told this daily before leaving for South Africa.

That she had only a couple of months to put up a show and make a comeback before the 2023 T20 World Cup lit a fire in her belly. The hunger to make a comeback, not just to the Indian squad, but to the playing XI only grew. "When you are told to do something in a longer span of time, your intensity might be less. If the timespan is shorter, you do it with much more force and enthusiasm. That was in my mind. So, I built a 'let's give all' attitude."

She went back to the drawing board, worked on her power game, and did a lot of gym sessions and training sessions both at the National Cricket Academy and back home in Baroda. And it all came in handy during the domestic season. Whether it was for Baroda or West Zone or the Senior T20 Challengers, irrespective of what role she had to play, she went in with the same attitude — not leaving anything behind when she walked off the field. She started trusting her instincts more, especially with respect to playing shots, which she, in the past, might not have. She also trusted herself to instinctively take an open stance depending on the situation of the match, and she believes that it opened up her leg side game.

"In T20s, the game is evolving and the bowlers are sharp. They have match-ups and we have to counter it on how to score boundaries. I also worked on my singles and doubles. In T20s, dot ball is a big problem which leads to dismissal. I worked on strike rotation consciously and it has helped a lot." The end result — 638 runs in 16 innings at an average of 39.87 and a strike rate of 110.18. As she wanted, she had done everything she could and left the ball in the court of the selectors, who picked her not just for the Australia T20Is in December at home but also for the tri-series and T20 World cup in South Africa.

Dream come true

As Yastika made it to the World Cup squad, she had accomplished what she wanted as she played in the opener against Pakistan with Smriti Mandhana missing out due to injury. In doing so, she had fulfilled a long-time dream of hers and her friend, Jemimah Rodrigues.

SATURDAY BLOCKBUSTER

With four top teams in action at Gqeberha, a look at the key talking points...

THE CLASH OF GROUP A

India vs England. This is a clash that's going to decide who tops the group. The last time they met in 2020, it was a washout that led India, with most league stage wins, to go through to the final. The scars will only motivate England more.

KATHERINE VS SHAFALI REUNION

The former is 37 while the Indian is 19. But when they get on the field, it is irrelevant. Since 2021, there's been an internal battle going between Katherine Sciver-Brunt and Shafali and it will be interesting to see who has the last laugh.

PROTEAS UNDER PRESSURE

If they want to show the country and the fans that they are here to win the World Cup, there's no better way to do that than beating Australia, to whom they lost in 2020 semis. South Africa will have to come together as a team, without giving an inch, to have a chance at outperforming Meg Lanning's side

Barca & United thriller

BARCELONA: Barcelona and Manchester United served up a thrilling 2-2 draw in the Europa League knockout playoffs. The former Euro champs traded leads in a back-and-forth second half of their first-leg game at Camp Nou. In another match in Turin, Juventus were held 1-1 by Nantes.

Chetan Sharma quits

NEW DELHI: As was expected, Chetan Sharma on Friday resigned from his post as India's chairman of selectors after being caught in a TV sting operation. It was learnt that the Indian cricket board secretary (BCCI) Jay Shah accepted his resignation.

Gujarat vs Chennai in IPL opener

IOA calls for AGM on March 11

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) has called for its first Annual General Meeting after the elections in December last year. The IOA has served a notice to president and secretaries of the National Sports Federations (NSFs), the member representatives of athletes' commission and member representative of Sportspersons of Outstanding Merit on February 9.

The AGM will be the first after new office bearers assumed charge. All eyes will be on the appointment of the CEO as well. According to the constitution, the mandate to call an election rests with the Chief Election Officer but since IOA is yet to appoint one, Kalyan Chaubey, the joint secretary who is doubling up an CEO (as per the constitution), has signed the meeting notice. Whether the State Olympic Associations, who don't have voting rights in the general house, have been invited is not clear. At least they don't feature in the letter.

The main objective of the March 11 meeting is passing the accounts of the IOA. It is listed as the second agenda and says, "consideration and passing of the audited statement of accounts for the financial years 2019-20 and 2020-21." The accounts of the IOA have not been settled since 2019 because of the infighting between its former top officials. The AGM will also ratify the minutes of the December 10 AGM and the November 10 Special General Meeting. Other agendas are, "consideration and passing of budget for the financial year 2022-23".

The mighty heart of South Africa's Kapp

GOMESH S @ Gqeberha

"YOU just say one mean word to me and I'll start crying," laughs Marizanne Kapp. This is someone who has played five ODI and six T20 World Cups (2023 is her seventh) and has 3719 runs and 217 international wickets next to her name. On the field, Marizanne is one of the fiercest competitors in the world.

And yet, here she was, saying that she would be in tears at the drop of one mean word. That pretty much sums up Kapp as a person. A fearless fighter and a passionate athlete on the field and a shy, soft-spoken, meticulous individual off it. She is someone who bats for long hours at the nets before going into a game or stays awake to visualise her bowling, in complete contrast to her wife and South Africa's regular captain, Dane van Niekerk. Having made her South Africa debut way back in 2009, the all-rounder has come a long way to become one of the stalwarts of the game.

After dominating the 50-over format in 2022, she followed it up with a stellar show in the WBBL; 229 runs at a strike rate of 143.12. It has helped her grow in confidence and trust her ability a lot more than she used to in the past. While 2022 was one of her best years on the field in a 13-year-long career, off it, she was struggling. Earlier in the year, Van Niekerk had slipped near the pool at their home, fracturing her ankle. As a result, she missed the ODI World Cup. Watching her partner miss the dream of leading her country at a World Cup was a big challenge for her.

In July, her brother-in-law met with an accident. Her nephews fell unwell. It was too such an extent that she left the England tour midway to be with her family and did not take part in the Commonwealth Games. Add to that, she had gotten Covid four times in the year. As someone who is private, it was her faith and constant support of the team doctor Tshegofatso Gaetsewe that got her through the tough times. "I think if she (Gaetsewe) wasn't there, if it wasn't for her, I would have probably called it quits this year because that's how mentally drained I was," she tells this daily. "I really struggled. I think this past year, even though I was achieving a lot of success on the field, when I left the field, I cried more than I've probably cried in the last 10 years of my life. It was literally through praying and having our team doctor there assisting me that I managed to still play some decent cricket."

For her, cricket was a distraction of sorts from what was happening off the field. The moment she swapped her everyday attire for the jersey, it was a different story. "When I was playing, and, obviously, when you do well, I love that and it was so good for me personally. But then as soon as I walk off the field, it's like, 'I hate it, I want to stop playing cricket, I want to retire. I don't want to be here anymore.' So it's been tough. I think, if I didn't have what I had on the field (in terms of performances), it would have probably been a different tale."

As South Africa are set to take on Australia in a must-win game at Gqeberha, Kapp is getting ready to play her first international game at her hometown but she will not have her partner by her side to walk onto the field. Van Niekerk was not picked as she could not meet the 9.30 minute 2km run criteria by 18 seconds. Despite being heartbroken, the all-rounder was breathing fire with the ball in the game against New Zealand in Paarl last week. Saturday is expected to be no different.

Vasavada haunts Bengal

AGENCIES @ Kolkata

Arpit Vasavada | PTI

THREE years after he crushed Bengal's Ranji Trophy hopes in the final, Arpit Vasavada once again came to haunt them at the same stage with an unbeaten 81 to take Saurashtra closer to their second title here on Friday. The Saurashtra vice-captain, whose 106 handed them a match-winning first innings lead in the 2020 final in Rajkot, once again got under the skin of Bengal, sharing two key partnerships with Sheldon Jackson (59) and Chirag Jani (57 not out).

The duo of Vasavada and Jani, who are unbroken in a 113-run partnership, stepped up the run-rate in the post-tea session, extending their first innings lead to 143. Saurashtra were 317 for 5 at close on day two in reply to Bengal's 174 all out.

Brief Scores: Bengal 174 vs Saurashtra 317/5 in 87 ovs (Harvik 50, Sheldon 59, Vasavada 81 n.o, Chirag 57 n.o; Mukesh 2/83, Ishan 2/72).

NCAA days behind Nicolas' promise

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

Max Purcell in action against James Duckworth in the quarterfinals

BORN in New York. Grew up in Dominican Republic. Spent his teenage years in London. Graduated in California. So, it's perhaps not a surprise that Nicolas Moreno de Alboran, who stands between Sumit Nagal and the final at the Chennai Open, opted to pursue International Studies at the college level.

What could be termed as a surprise is the way De Alboran, ranked 219 in the world, became a professional tennis player. He pursued it as a pastime in Dominican Republic — his parents took him there as his mother, a documentary photographer, moved base to study the migration of Haitians to the country. After the family moved to London to be close to his older brother who joined a boarding school there, De Alboran started to take it more seriously. However, he continued to dabble in other sports including cricket. "I used to play cricket in England," he says. "Unfortunately, I wasn't good enough."

While he did take to tennis, he didn't have a conventional route to the sport (he missed most of the junior circuit). That changed when he joined Santa Barbara in California. The NCAA is famed for producing players and it's not a surprise to hear the 25-year-old sing its praises. "NCAA is a great place to play a lot of tennis. It's like living in an Academy," he says. "You are always playing against players at your level, you are meeting every weekend. At the same time, you are getting a degree. For somebody who hadn't played a lot of junior tournaments, these matches were very important." After graduating in 2019, some four years after deciding tennis was going to be his thing, he began his grind.

Results (Q/Fs): Max Purcell bt James Duckworth 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, Nicolas Alboran bt Yasutaka Uchiyama 6-3, 6-4, Nagal bt Jay Clarke 6-1, 6-4, Dane Sweeny bt Arthur Cazaux 6-7 (5), 7-6 (9), 6-3.

Let's pledge to make Bengaluru plastic-free city.

Plastic waste is one of the biggest environmental challenges which India is facing today. Places like seas, rivers, mountains, empty plains are filled with plastic waste which is ruining our environment everywhere.

It is unbelievable that plastic, which people invented decades ago for convenience, has slowly become an environmental hazard today. Plastic pollution causes damage to humans, animals and plants through toxic pollutants. The environmental damage caused by plastic is long-term.

BBMP aims to set up eco-friendly plastic waste disposal solutions. Therefore, keeping in view the damage caused to the environment by plastic waste, it has undertaken several programmes to reduce its use and make people aware of the ill-effects of plastic use. In the process, it is trying its best to ban the use of plastic bags and plastic products, and to reduce plastic waste across Bengaluru city.

DAY'S DIARY

Pluto discovered

Astronomer Clyde Tombaugh discovered Pluto, the ninth planet in the solar system, on February 18, 1930

SEARCH FOR PLANET X

Tombaugh was hired by Lowell Observatory in 1929 to continue the search businessman Percival Lowell had begun — a search for Planet X for which he established the observatory

ON THE JOB

His job was to photograph one small piece of the night sky, and compare the photos to detect an unidentified moving point of light

SPOTTING PLUTO

After photographing 65% of the sky, Tombaugh discovered Pluto using a Zeiss blink comparator that allowed him to spot moving objects against the background star fields

Yay or nay? Following the State Budget on Friday, prominent Bengalureans share their thoughts on it with Dese Gowda

BUZZ AROUND BUDGET

HARISH BIJOOR, Brand guru

The proposal to build a state-of-the-art startup park at the Kempegowda International Airport is a positive step. With the startup ecosystem growing by leaps and bounds, the proposal makes sense because the airport area is well planned. To me, that area feels like 'new Bengaluru', unlike the real Bengaluru which has seen exponential growth over the last few years without any planning.

GARIMA PANDE, founder, Wandering Jane

It would have been great had the budget offered support to the tourism industry in the form of tax rebates and incentives, because we are still reeling from the impact of the pandemic. Many are desperately trying to recover from the losses, which has meant that average prices for travel and hotels, even around the city, are still sky high. Had the budget offered some form of incentive, even for a brief period, the industry would have gone back to pre-Covid normalcy.

CHRISTINA BABU, student

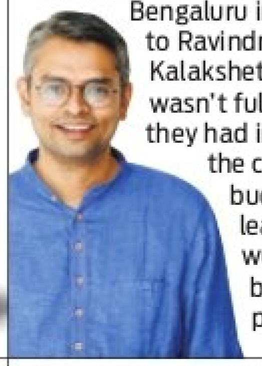
I hope the 'Makkala Buss' scheme for students makes commuting affordable. I would have liked to have seen a similar initiative for students using the Metro. The investments in road infrastructure have been long overdue. I hope it eases the traffic in the city which is nightmarish.

VINAY CHANDRASHEKAR, co-founder, Long Boat Brewing Co.

The budget hasn't offered any direct benefits to the F&B industry, but the proposal to develop eco-tourism and heritage tourism is likely have an indirect impact. The waiver of property tax for a period of three years for businesses operating in government land seems promising. Being an eco-brewery, it encourages us to expand our business and take advantage of the incentive. Additionally, the proposal to establish food streets in various tourist destinations across the state is an interesting idea that is expected to boost the F&B industry in the state.

ABHISHEK IYENGAR, filmmaker

It would have been great if the government had given the film city project more focus. A state-owned film city will not only create permanent jobs, but it will also make filmmaking more accessible and affordable. During the last budget, the government had promised to build four more theatre auditoria across Bengaluru in addition to Ravindra Kalakshetra. That wasn't fulfilled. If they had included it in the current budget at least, that would have been a positive step.



ARJUN GOUTHAM, tennis coach

The proposal to build new coaching centres across the state, especially in rural areas is a great idea, because that's where some of the hungrier athletes come from. I don't know how exactly it will turn out. However, the government should also have prioritised using existing infrastructure in an efficient manner and to sort of create a basic introduction to different types of sports. There's little support for athletes competing at a high level. Announcements of financial support are made, but it rarely comes to fruition. The government should focus on long-term plans to encourage sports.

DE-TOXIFYING OUR CITY

Hola mes Amigas!

I hope, I was well and truly missed for the week I took off to 'detox' myself. Detoxification, sustainability and other gobble-de-gook nomenclatures were starting to rile me a tad bit. So, with a deep seated reluctance I checked into 'Kshemavana', a wellness and healing sanctuary built on natural and holistic principles of the visionary guru Dr Veerendra Heggade of Dharmasthala. Built on 26 acres of land this luxurious sanctuary slowly but surely converted me to be more in sync with nature and her bounties. I must admit; my parameters are normal now and boiled veggie food isn't all that bad! The myriad of treatments from hot-stone massages, hydro-therapy, acupuncture and yoga did me a world of good. The only person who looks on in mock horror at his changed spouse is my carnivorous hubby!

Before my 'holistic' sojourn, my life was pretty hectic what with namma ooru turning into a party-zone. I've more or less stopped going to launch parties as the days of spilling liquor on my expensive shoes as people jostle me at the venue are over. As multiple PRs do the invite, the guest list is slightly eclectic to say the least. Now I candidly ask who will be coming. I cannot risk being around known/ unknown unsavoury elements!

Tejus Jose, GM of Hilton Embassy Golf Links sure knows how to throw a party! Seta, their newest poolside restaurant was teeming with beautiful people, music and laughter. Great Asian nibbles and cheese-platters were deftly circulated while a generously stocked bar made sure we were suitably 'tippled'! Some fantastic moves by the fire-dancers kept us mesmerized and old and new friends fraternised under the star-spangled sky. I love sprawling spaces where people aren't cooped up like sardines and one has the opportunity to mingle and converse.

Sanjay and Yashodhara Shroff are a couple that commands tremendous goodwill and respect in our city. Owners of Bangalore's first every luxe boutique Ffolio, they are a warm and hospitable pair. So when they sent a hard copy of a beautifully thought out invite, everybody who was somebody turned up at The Four Seasons, to help them celebrate all the good things that happened to them during the lockdown phase, including the marriage of their son Rishi to Srishti. Old friends milled around chatting, talking and partaking from a stupendous buffet and I espied some people dancing cheek to cheek. Sigh! Auld Bengaluru at its best…

I received a rather cryptic invitation from good friend Madhav Sehgal, GM Leela Palace, to contact a mysterious 'Zia' who would lead me to an undisclosed location at hotel. Even after much prodding, Madhav remained unmoved about coughing up any info. We arrived, only to be escorted through one of the kitchens, up a staircase to a gorgeous 'speakeasyesque' bar with thumping jazz music! We could have been anywhere… from midtown Manhattan to downtown Chicago! The wall to wall bar was stocked with a mind boggling array of Madeira from all over the world, and the predominantly Asian flavoured food was delicious, elegant and something that is only available in the best restaurants the world over!

Bangalore is upping its ante as the gourmet capital of India and we like it… Now if only the infrastructure followed suit!

87th Trimurthy Shivajayanti
THE SUPREME FATHER'S DIVINE DESCENT ON EARTH
Brahma Kumaris
Supreme Soul Godfather
GOD HAS ARRIVED

WHEN IN DISTRESS YOU CALL OUT TO THE ONE UP ABOVE
When you are in distress, you call out to the One above, saying "Oh God, Oh God Father, Oh Nooray ilahi, Oh Paramatma, Oh Prabhu, protect me, guide me, relieve me from this suffering..."

MAHA SHIVARATRI WHO IS THE ONE UP ABOVE?
He is the subtlest of the subtle. He is a point of divine light and is called SHIVA, the Supreme or God or Almighty Authority. He is the Father of all of us, souls.

WHERE IS GOD NOW? WHEN DOES HE COME?
Looking at the degradation of the world today, anyone can tell that it is the time of the Savior, the Creator to descend on earth and liberate us all from sorrow. He indeed has come. It is time to know Him and forge a relationship with Him.

MAHA SHIVARATRI IS TRIMURTHY SHIVA JAYANTI

It is said in Gita that whenever there is extreme irreligiousness, God comes. Shiva Ratri is the highest of all festivals and is called 'Maha' Shivaratri as it symbolizes the divine incarnation of God Shiva on earth.

Almighty Authority Shiva, the Incorporeal Supreme Father, is the Creator of the triad - Brahma, Vishnu and Shankar - through whom He carries out His three Supreme Acts of Creation, Sustenance and Destruction, respectively. This is why, the day of Shiva Ratri is rightly called as Trimurthy Shiva Jayanti.

He incarnates towards the end of Kaliyuga to show us the path of light and liberation and take us to a whole new world of Love, Divinity and Truth.

WHO IS GOD SHIVA?
- The Supreme, God Shiva is the Father of all of us, souls. As His children, we inherit His form, which is that of a point of light. You can call yourself soul, conscience, energy, shakti, rooh, atma, etc.
- I the soul, playing my role through this body, am also eternal like my Father and I inherit the attributes of my Father - of truth, peace, happiness, and love at the core of my very being.

HOW TO ACCURATELY CELEBRATE SHIVARATRI OR TRIMURTHY SHIVA JAYANTI

A befitting way to celebrate the birthday of God, Trimurti Shiva is to first realize that God has now come to bestow the fruit of our intense devotion (or bhakti) in the form of Ishwariya Gyan and RajaYoga meditation, which are being imparted through all the Brahma Kumaris centers worldwide. Because it is through knowledge that one can attain the God-Fatherly inheritance of liberation (mukti) and fruition or liberation in life (Jeevan Mukti). Every human soul on this earth is entitled to know not only this wonderful news that our Supreme Father, Shiva has arrived, but also to experience God firsthand by taking in the knowledge that He is teaching, and learning RajaYoga meditation from the Brahma Kumaris.

SHIVARAJKUMAR-NARTHAN'S BHAIRATHI RANAGAL BACK ON TRACK

The Mufti director will be helming the much-anticipated project for Century Star; an official confirmation likely to be out on Shivaratri

Shivarajkumar

Director Narthan

A SHARADHAA

IF all had gone per plan, Bhairathi Ranagal directed by Mufti director Narthan would have been Shivarajkumar's 125th film. But the project could not take off as per schedule, due to the previous commitment of the actor and director, and Vedha eventually became the milestone film for the Century Star.

In fact, Narthan in his previous interview with CE in Feb 2021 mentioned Covid-19 pandemic changed the entire schedule. "The number doesn't matter, and regardless of whether my film with Shivanna will be 125th or not, at some point, I will direct, Bhairathi Ranagal for the actor, and that is my responsibility."

Going by the latest development, speculations are rife that director Narthan and Shivarajkumar will be joining hands for Bhairathi Ranagal and the project will go on floors sometime this year. Another interesting buzz is that the Shivanna-Narthan project will be the second productional venture under Geetha Pictures banner, who marked their debut with Vedha. An official announcement about the actor and director joining hands will be confirmed on the occasion of Shivaratri today.

The news about Narthan doing a Telugu film with Ram Charan instead of Yash's film has been doing the rounds. But our source tells us that the director is waiting for the actor to complete his commitment with director Shankar, which will take time. So, the director in between is said to have taken up the script of Bhairathi Ranagal which is almost in the completion stage, and pre-preparation work will begin soon.

Shivarajkumar in one of the interviews while promoting Vedha, had mentioned doing Bhairathi Ranagal, and it is going to be a prequel to Mufti. Bhairathi Ranagal was the title, derived from a special role Shivarajkumar played in Mufti which also starred Sriimurali. The character became a huge hit among the audience, and special mention was made of Shivanna's body language. Now a full-length feature film is being made on this character.

Shivanna, who is one of the busiest actors in the south Indian Industry recently had his 125th film Vedha also released in Telugu. The Century star is currently committed to Ghost by Srini and Yogaraj Bhat's Karataka Dhamanaka. He also plans to begin shooting for 45, which marks the directorial debut of music director Arjun Janya.

It is also learnt that the actor, who has Jailer with Rajinikanth, and Captain Miller with Dhanush will also be teaming with director Sachin Ravi for a film. Official details from the production house, the cast and crew of the Narthan's directorial are now awaited.

Interesting ideas on paper, go terribly lost in transition to the screen

A SHARADHAA

CHAOS
Director: G V Prasad
Cast: Akshith Shashikumar, Aditi Prabhudeva Chandan R, Siddhu Molimani, and Shivanand Sindagi

RATING 2.5/5

GEORGE Santayana got it right when he wrote: 'Chaos is a name for any order that produces confusion in our minds'... which seems apt for this film. The plot line looks good on paper, and this coming from doctor-turned-director GV Prasad, made it even more interesting. However, the first-timer goes beyond confusing the audience with Chaos; he creates a world that is unrealistic and impractical in a lot of ways. Although he has chosen a rarely-made thriller plot, he loses direction, seemingly focussed more on the reveal, forgetting the rest of the runtime.

The story revolves around Shravan (Shivanand Sindagi), a pharmaceutical student, who is horrified to see the dead body of his friend Amit, (Chandan R) in his room, with whom he had partied the previous night. Fearing being framed, he doesn't go to the police and seeks the help of Adi (Akshith Shashikumar), a medical student residing in his neighbourhood. The story goes on to follow how the duo disposes of the body and investigates the murder. What role a bunch of Adi's college mates, including Siddhu (Siddhu Moolimani), a bright student in the college, have in the whole mess explains the dull ending.

Doctor-turned-director, Prasad claims to have penned the story, when he was a medical student. The plot which is filled with medical terminology, keeps you hooked at times initially, but on the other side, the story keeps shocking the audience with its illogical narrative. The film which should have effectively explored human psychology turns dud with its halfhearted treatment of the potential storyline. However, the director justifies the motive behind the murder.

Prasad fails to draw the desired performance from his cast. Akshith Shashikumar's performance is impressive in parts, but he could have shined had the ideal guidance been available. Aditi Prabhudeva, the soul of the plot, does not seem to bring out a performance that she is capable of, and so is the case with not so noted actors. Even senior actor Shashikumar has not been utilised well.

The camerawork draws attention with some excellent aerial views.However, the medical thriller -- a rare plot -- might draw the audience and be a one-time watch.

A light-hearted adventure with humble aspirations

ANT-MAN AND THE WASP: QUANTUMANIA
Director: Peyton Reed
Cast: Paul Rudd, Evangeline Lilly, Jonathan Majors, Kathryn Newton

RATING 3/5

NAVEIN DARSHAN

BY now we all know that the Marvel Cinematic Universe projects aren't just superhero films. Each film of the MCU is an amalgamation of at least two or three genres. When it had an extra dose of cultural representation, we got Black Panther. When it had coming-of-age elements, it became a Spider-Man Homecoming. The newest Marvel film, Ant-Man and The Wasp: Quantumania, which kickstarts the much-awaited phase five (after the almost-forgettable phase four), is a mashup of multiple genres. It is a 'sci-fi-meets-family-drama-meets-kids-films' formula that fits into a superhero film. While the positive of this blend is definitely the universality of the themes, the flip side is the lack of exploration of these themes.

Ant-Man and The Wasp: Quantamania completely sticks to the template set by the successful kids adventure franchises like Jumanji and Spy Kids and has an over-simplified plotline that goes, "the heroes get trapped in an unearthly world, takes down a super-villain and returns back to their reality." Since the stakes are never really high, we barely expect major twists or thrills from it. But what keeps us invested in the film is the mystery surrounding the principal antagonist Kang The Conquerer(Jonathan Majors). It was a relief to see Kang, the man massacring timelines(read universes), written with utmost sincerity and seriousness, without giving in to the temptation of making a joke out of the villain like in Thor: Love and Thunder. Jonathan does the heavy lifting and brings the much-needed gravitas to the screenplay. He shows that casting the right actor can make a world of difference to a film with functional writing. Even though Kang has motives that are almost as strong as Thanos, it is Jonathan's performance that makes the role all the more exciting. Kang has seen so much that we don't know if he is hiding a sea of tears or unquenchable rage within him, and Jonathan succeeds in delivering this delicate balance. But the major issue I had with the writing of Kang is we really don't get to know his complete abilities and how he inherited them, despite spending significant time with the character. I understand that they have saved it for the upcoming MCU films, but when you have Ant-Man fist-fighting the presently strongest villain of the MCU, a lot is lost in translation.

Whenever a film has the 'heroes stuck in alternate world' narrative, the writers introduce a ticking timebomb-like situation in the heroes' actual world, forcing them to race against time and return. Here, the almost day-long travel to the quantum realm should have cost our heroes a forced jump to the future. (A major callback to Avengers: End Game, where Scott Lang (Paul Rudd) lost five years of his life by getting stuck in quantum real for five hours.) And Earth could have been facing a threat in the absence of the PYM-tech wielders. But to all our disappointment, these effective and logical stakes are conveniently avoided, restricting our focus only to the quantum realm. If breaking the time variance rule preset in MCU is one issue, the very depiction of the realm is another. Scott's brief travel to the quantum realm in Ant-Man and The Wasp only gave us a glimpse of a world filled with hazel-coloured crystals where our hero is made to float mid-air. But with Quantumania, the rules are rewritten and we are introduced to a Madmax-meets-Star Wars dystopian world with human-like blobs, human-like houses, and human-like humans! I know it's crazy, but it is how it is. I really wish Marvel gave us some serious explanation of the detour and the resultant new world in the upcoming films. All the intricacies and marvel-ness aside, Ant-Man and The Wasp: Quantumania tries to be a light-hearted family drama at its core. It has a mother who has a dark past, a daughter who is coming to terms with reality, and a guilt-stricken father who wants to make up for the lost time. It also has an oddball set of people coming together to form one harmonious team... or should I say, family? This isn't the most novel of all ideas for a film, but it works for sure. The liberal dose of drama topped with a couple of effective laughs makes up for minimum-guaranteed entertainment. But, hey shouldn't we be focussing on the 'superhero' aspect of the film and be invested on the larger threats awaiting our Marvel heroes? Well, Ant-Man and The Wasp: Quantumania is an odd MCU film where the hero himself is more focussed on the sugary family moments in his life, leaving the superhero business in the backseat. That is quite a precedent set by Ant-Man, to consume this episode of his life as a family drama rather than a superhero film.

Rudraksha: A tool of personal welfare

Rudraksha, the mystic beads, have since time immemorial been a symbol of faith. And battling reason, it has managed to reinvigorate will, enrich affection, and awaken a sense of contentment, thanks to Rudrajyoothi, an organisation formed with an objective to spread awareness about its properties

ARVIND P BANKAAR

We have all seen people wearing Rudraksha beads. And more often than not, we generalise them into the 'religious' category.

What if I were to tell you that wearing a Rudraksha is more scientific than religious, and it can help you in numerous ways to improve your overall well-being?

In Srimad Devi Bhagvatam, Book – 11, Chapter – 5, it is stated:

श्रद्धा न जायते साक्षाद्वेदसिद्धे विमुक्तिदे ।
बहूनां जन्मनामन्ते महादेवप्रसादतः ॥ 25
रुद्राक्षधारणे वाञ्छा स्वभावादेव जायते ।
रुद्राक्षस्य तु माहात्म्यं जाबालैरादरेण तु ॥ 26

"Devotion to Rudraksha does not come without reason and you get Rudraksha only if it is in your destiny or good fortune. After several births and that too by getting blessing of Lord Shiva, a person gets desire to wear Rudraksha. This desire comes from within naturally."

People from all walks of life — sages, saints, politicians, businessmen — have adorned this Jewel of the Gods to empower themselves and reach new heights. It is common knowledge and belief that Rudraksha from 1 Mukhi to 21 Mukhi, Ganesh, Gaurishankar Rudraksh , Trijuti and Sawar Rudraksh are powerful and divine.

Everyone can wear any Rudraksha from 1 Mukhi- 21 Mukhi and other Rudrakshas. It is always advisable to choose the right bead based on one's date of birth.

Science Behind Rudraksh

Rudrakshas are considered to be sacred and have many spiritual and medicinal values both as preventive and curative. Rudraksha is the 'King' of herbal medicine working effectively and positively both as preventive and curative.

The mode of action of Rudraksha therapy is covered by basic principles of Ayurveda and it also fulfils the ideals of gentle, harmless and quick restoration of health. This therapy being purely herbal and tolerable by human body, can be worn by persons of any age, sex and profession and it has no side effects.

In Srimad Devi Bhagavatam (11.6.39), it is stated,

दरिद्रं वापि पुरुषं राजानं कुरुते भुवि ।

The greatness of Rudraksham is such that it can make a king out of a poor man.

That is not to say that Rudraksha is only meant for making one prosperous. Look at it this way:

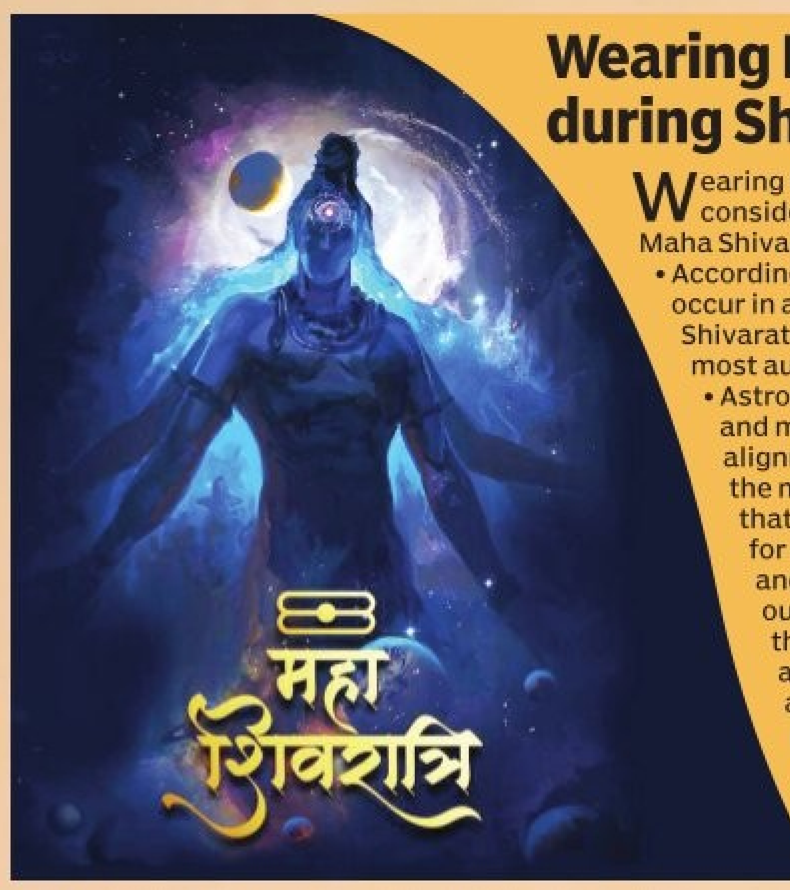
Rudraksha makes one correctly aligned in terms of thoughts, energy, and confidence so much so that the person ends up being prosperous on his/her own.

Why it is important to have a genuine Rudraksha?

Traditionally, Malas are made available by people who held it as a sacred duty in their lives. For generations, they made a living out of it. But once the demand soared, commerce came in.

Today in India, there is another seed called Bhadraksha which is a poisonous seed, which grows extensively in Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, and that area. Both of these seeds look the same. It is difficult to make out the difference. Only experts equipped with various instruments and techniques can detect the difference.

Bhadraksha should not be worn on the body, but these are being sold as authentic beads in many places. So it is important that you get your mala from a trusted source.



Wearing Rudraksh during Shivaratri week

Wearing Rudraksh during Shivratri week is considered auspicious. Significance of Maha Shivaratri week - Navami to chaturdashi:

- According to the lunar cycle, 12 Shivaratris occur in a year, out of which the Maha Shivaratri week is considered to be the most auspicious.
- Astrologically, on this holy day, the sun and moon come in a particular alignment which is helpful to elevate the mind. Indian astrologers advocate that this auspicious day is congenial for spiritual practices, meditation, and for natural upsurge of energies in our spine, which gives relief from all three types of problems, i.e. adhyatmik, adhibhoutik, and adidaivik as well as awakens every particle of our body towards truth, love, beauty, peace, and benevolence - the ethereal qualities of Shiva.
